

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY AND TAMMANY REBUKE TELLS ELECTION STORY

MASSACHUSETTS, NEW JERSEY AND VIRGINIA ELECT DEMOCRATS FOR GOVERNORSHIP.

PRESIDENT IS PLEASED

Sends Message of Congratulation to Several of Successful Candidates in City and State Returns.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Democratic governors were elected yesterday in each state where that office was filled—Massachusetts, New Jersey and Virginia. With the exception to New York state where the Tammany democracy was severely rebuked, more democratic than republican victories were recorded at the polls.

Maryland elected a democratic United States senator, Blair Lee. Of the four congressmen elected throughout the country three were democrats. The exception was C. D. Podge in the third district of Massachusetts.

Massachusetts Landslide.

In Massachusetts there was a democratic landslide. Lieutenant Governor David I. Walsh was chosen governor by a plurality of 53,691, the largest ever given a democrat for the office in the Bay state. Every democratic candidate on the state ticket went into office with the possible exception of attorney general.

The Tammany democracy in New York state was condemned in a manner which left little solace to the leaders. John Purroy Mitchell, fusionist, was elected mayor of New York city, leading Edward E. McCall, the Tammany candidate, by 121,209 votes.

William Sulzer, deposed governor of the state, was returned to the assembly from New York city. The New York state assembly will be safely republican.

In New Jersey, James F. Fielder, democrat, was elected governor with a plurality of about 22,000 over the republican candidate, and the democrats will control both houses of the legislature.

Results Please Wilson.

Washington, Nov. 5.—President Wilson made no official comment today on the democratic victories in New Jersey, Massachusetts and Maryland, but told friends he was much encouraged because in all three states the tariff and currency were issues and he thought that the administration policies had been upheld.

The victory in New Jersey was particularly happy that his home county, Hudson, gave Fielder, the democratic nominee for governor, an overwhelming majority which helped materially in winning the state.

The president generally telephoned their congratulations to the White House and Secretary Bryan, who campaigned in Maryland and New Jersey, expressed his satisfaction as to the result.

Sends Congratulations.

The president already had sent a telegram to Mr. Fielder, the victor in New Jersey, and dispatched other messages today.

To David I. Walsh, elected governor of Massachusetts, he said: "My heartiest congratulations. You were a splendid victory, finely won."

To Blair Lee, democrat, elected United States senator in Maryland, the president wrote: "I congratulate you and the nation most warmly. The victory was complete."

The president took a great interest in the municipal election and sent the mayor, Newton D. Baker, re-elected, in Cleveland, the following message: "Please accept my warmest congratulations. It is all good to hear of your victory."

Unofficial returns to the White House stating that Fielder had carried Essex county by 721, pleased the president very much. Secretary Taft telegraphed that in Essex county the Smith-Nugent faction of the democratic party had supported the republican ticket.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 5.—With late unofficial returns, the election of David I. Walsh, democratic candidate for governor, by a plurality of 50,000 was conceded today. Bird, progressive candidate, and Gardner, republican, were close second, placed in the third place. Their combined strength would easily have routed the democrats. Foss, present governor, who ran independent was a bad fourth.

The extent of the democratic landslide in yesterday's state election was not fully realized until after a recapitulation of the figures today.

Plurality of 53,691.

Then it was found that Lieutenant Governor David I. Walsh had been elected to the governorship in a four cornered contest by a plurality of 53,691. This is the largest plurality ever recorded a democratic candidate for the office.

Complete returns give the vote for governor as follows: David I. Walsh, democrat, 180,385; Charles S. Bird, progressive, 126,677; Augustus P. Gardner, republican, 116,314; Eugene N. Foss, independent, 26,517.

Carries State Ticket.

The new governor carried with him into office every democratic candidate on the state ticket, with the possible exception of attorney general. The republican grip of the legislature was weakened. That party after control of years lacks a majority in each branch.

Progressive Gains.

The progressives, who scored heavy gains, hold the balance of power. The senate stands: Republicans, 20; democrats, 18; progressives, 2. The house: Republican, 17; democrats, 103; progressives, 17; independents, 2; socialists, 1. The democrats also made gains in the executive council.

Philadelphia Republican.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 5.—The victory of the regular republican organization in Philadelphia over the fusion forces led by Mayor Blankenberg, appeared more complete today as further returns were received. The reform element, which combined with the democratic party to elect Mayor Blankenberg, was not only out of the county offices by more than thirty thousand majority, but increased their membership in the city council.

FRANCE MAY MEDIATE IN MEXICAN CRISIS

Mexican Foreign Office at Paris Submits Informal Request Today.—France Defers to United States.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, Nov. 5.—The French foreign office was asked informally today by the Mexican foreign office if it was disposed to mediate between the United States and Mexico.

The French foreign office has taken the attitude that it will do nothing until further advised as to the policy of the United States towards Mexico, and then nothing which might be unwelcome to the United States.

Defer to United States.

Washington, Nov. 5.—State department officials take the position that the action of the French foreign office in refraining from indicating whether it was disposed to mediate between Mexico and the United States is another evidence of the intention of France to defer to the policy of the United States in the Mexican situation.

Secretary Bryan said of the Paris dispatch:

"In the absence of official advice from the French foreign office I am unwilling to make any comment."

Bryan Remains Silent.

France was among the first of the officials to accede to the request of the United States to defer action in the Mexican situation until the Washington government had formulated and announced its policy.

Mr. Bryan fully refused to discuss the Mexican situation in any of its phases today. The secretary of state was asked particularly about one published report that General Huerta had made a reply to a recent communication from the United States and he refused to confirm or deny it.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, Nov. 5.—All the newspapers of Buenos Ayres contain articles welcoming Col. Theodore Roosevelt. His portrait is displayed everywhere in the city.

Three steamships left here this morning with delegates on board to greet the distinguished visitor on his arrival from Montevideo.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt arrived here shortly after ten this morning, aboard the Argentine gunboat Uruguay from Montevideo.

GEORGIA-CAROLINA FAIR IS OPENED IN AUGUSTA

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 5.—The city is crowded with visitors from all sections of Georgia and many parts of the neighboring states who have come here to see the eighth annual Georgia-Carolina fair which opened today for a season of ten days. More and finer exhibits, in live stock, poultry, machinery and implements, a larger number of interesting attractions and special features than ever before are offered this year and the fair promises to be the most successful ever held. In connection with the fair there will be a great poultry show, a corn show, a kennel show, automobile and motorcycle races, the annual football game between the University of Georgia and Clemson Agricultural College, balloon ascensions, an auto-polo game and the greatest livestock show in the south. In connection with the fair a good roads convention will be held tomorrow and Friday.

SUFFRAGISTS OF MICHIGAN PLAN A REORGANIZATION

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 5.—A large and enthusiastic attendance augurs well for the success of the twenty-eighth annual convention of the Michigan Equal Suffrage Association which opened its session here today. The delegates were called to order by Clara B. Arthur, the president of the association, who delivered her annual address. The convention promises to be of considerable importance, as a thorough reorganization of the association is planned which is considered necessary in view of the defeat of the suffrage party at the last state election. There are six candidates in the field for the position of president of the association and a spirited campaign is expected. The gathering will adjourn on Friday.

WISCONSIN NORWEGIANS PLAN FOR CELEBRATION

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Nov. 5.—Upon invitation of Governor McGovern, representative Norwegians of Wisconsin will gather in Madison next Saturday to plan this state's part in the celebration of the constitution of Norway next year. The fair will be held from May 15 to Oct. 1, celebrating the one-hundredth anniversary of the adoption of the constitution of Norway. In Governor McGovern's words, its purpose is "to exhibit what the sons and daughters of Norway have accomplished, not only at home, but also in this and other lands to which they have emigrated."

At the meeting Saturday, Vice Consul Olaf I. Rove of Milwaukee and John Benson, editor of the Scandinavian Chicago, will be present, and the invitation to attend is open to all others interested.

WANT ARMED GUARD TO ACCOMPANY CARS

Indianapolis Strikers Give Assurance, However, to Efforts to Prevent Rioting.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 5.—A plan to restore street car service will be sought at a conference today between state, county and city officials and representatives of the labor union. The officials of the street car company stated definitely that they will make no further efforts to run cars until given an armed guard to ride with the strike breakers.

Ernest Bosty of the Central Labor Union has assured the authorities that the unions are in favor of any action by officials that will suppress lawlessness in the streets.

Car is Bombarded.

The first street car to be moved since the traction employees' strike was called Friday night, was deserted in the streets today after strike-breakers had run it less than a mile through a constant hail of bricks. One strike-breaker was taken from the car badly hurt.

Four strike-breakers and a number of patrolmen were less seriously hurt by a downpour of missiles that came from roofs and windows of buildings and the crowd in the streets from the time the car left the barn until it was abandoned about three-fourths of a mile from the start.

Forced to Surrender.

At this point the trolley came off and it became so dangerous for the strike-breakers that they lay down on the floor of the car, and after a few minutes as a sign of surrender threw out the controller and all their arms into the streets. They were then taken in charge by strikers and policemen and later taken to jail.

The car was greatly damaged and the platform was covered with stones, bricks, pieces of coal and other missiles. When the car left the barn no police were on it, but it was surrounded by patrolmen on foot and horseback.

The conference which began early in the day between the peace authorities was in session when the rioting took place.

Adjourn Conference.

The conference adjourned at noon without reaching any conclusion. It will meet again at 8 o'clock.

The Central Labor union charged that the police shot late Monday, died at the city hospital today. This makes the fourth death as the result of the strike. The police today arrested Charles Fisher, a strike-breaker from Chicago, and charged him with murder.

FINED AFTER BEING TAKEN FROM WATER

John Raddantz Forced to Pay Heavy Fine After Being Found Drifting on Water for 17 Hours.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Manitowoc, Nov. 5.—Rescued from probable death from exhaustion in a few hours after he was picked up five miles out in the lake where he had been adrift for seventeen hours, John Raddantz, a local fisherman, was today arrested and fined $50 and costs on charge of planting nets after the close season for fishing.

While engaged in lifting his nets the gasoline in Raddantz's launch gave out and he drifted about five miles out before being rescued by the Two Rivers life saving crew.

Raddantz is a sailor. When found in the bottom of his boat, "if it was my time to die I'd go anyway," he is said to have declared when he was rescued.

Miss Ada M. Cox of Rockford Receives Verdict of $17,400 for Breach of Promise.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

St. Paul, Nov. 5.—Miss Ada M. Cox of Rockford, Ill., was given a verdict of $17,400 against William Rufus Edwards, a wealthy St. Paul lumberman, for breach of promise in district court today.

The case went to the jury late yesterday. The trial has occupied more than two weeks. Miss Cox was awarded a verdict of $15,000 from Mr. Edwards in the spring of 1912, but the decision was reversed by the state supreme court and a new trial ordered.

Wausau, Nov. 5.—Alice Zander, two year old daughter of Gustav Zander of this city, died of oil of cedar which she found in the house where it is presumed it was left by former occupants of the house. She died two hours later.

Buying Furs? A Warning!

There are more kinds of ways of fooling people about furs than there are animals in America.

There is only one sure protection in fur buying and that is to consult a merchant in whom you have confidence and to rely on his word.

To begin with you can well be prejudiced in favor of the merchants who advertise in live papers like The Janesville Daily Gazette, out in public patronage is mighty good evidence in his favor.

FOURMEN TO ENTER GUBERNATORIAL RACE

Effort of Wisconsin Republicans to Settle on One Candidate Has Thus Far Been in Vain.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Nov. 5.—All attempts to center Republican support upon one candidate for governor appear to have come to naught. At least four possible candidates for the state's highest office are sitting by to see which shall make the first announcement. In conversation with friends, however, these men practically admit that they will become candidates regardless of the competition.

The four possibilities are Speaker Hull of Black River Falls, Senator George E. Scott of Prairie Farm, former Senator W. H. Hutton of New London, and C. H. Crownhart of Superior, chairman of the state industrial commission.

Hutton and Hull.

It is freely predicted that Mr. Hutton's announcement may be expected before the holidays. Some of his friends claim he would be satisfactory to all factions of the Republican party. He is an unfriendly speaker Hull sidetracked an answer to the main question but admitted he had received many letters encouraging an early announcement of his candidacy. The speaker repeated former statements that he believed candidates are at this stage somewhat premature, that the people want a rest, and that spring is early enough for any man's entrance into a gubernatorial campaign. He said he was not prepared to say whether or not he will make the run. Owing to the character of the issues, he predicted the race will be a "hot" one. Mr. Hull admits that the campaign must be fought out along the lines of economy in state government.

Farmers for Scott.

The support for Senator Scott comes largely from agricultural districts. Attention was attracted to him by reason of his championship in the last legislature of measures to reduce the fire insurance cost, especially in the agricultural districts where fireproof buildings are few and where fire rates are excessively high. By some who are unfriendly to his candidacy it is claimed that his position as chairman of the appropriations committee last winter would put him on the defensive in a campaign, requiring him to explain in detail the reason for every appropriation induced by his committee.

Crownhart Sentiment.

The Crownhart sentiment finds strength among the laboring classes by reason of his championship of a broader application of the workmen's compensation law.

At the present time it is generally regarded that Governor McGovern will not be a candidate for re-election but he is preparing to announce his plans for the United States senatorship when the opportunity shall be ripe.

INSTALL NEW BISHOP AT SUPERIOR TODAY

Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee Names the Right Rev. J. M. Koudeika As New Man.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Superior, Wis., Nov. 5.—In the presence of over one hundred priests, a half dozen bishops and hundreds of members of the Catholic church, Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee today installed the Right Rev. J. M. Koudeika as bishop of Superior to succeed the Right Rev. A. F. Schinner, who recently resigned. All of the visiting bishops and a number of priests from out of town assisted in the impressive ceremonies. Among the churchmen present were several from Cleveland, where Bishop Koudeika formerly was located. All of the installation Bishop Koudeika was the guest of honor at a banquet given for him by the priests. Father C. J. Weber of Superior officiated as toastmaster. Only church officials attended.

TESTIFIES IN HIS OWN BEHALF TODAY

Clarence S. Funk Called to Stand to Make His Testimony on Charges Against Donahoe and Stiefel.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Clarence S. Funk today testified in the trial of Dan Donahoe and Isaac Stiefel, who are charged with conspiracy to defame him.

The state decided not to call Mrs. Maude Evans, or Mrs. Marjorie Hamilton Cunningham as there was question of admissibility of their testimony and the prosecution desires to avoid possibility of reversible error. Mrs. Evans is said to have warned Funk that an attempt would be made to entangle him in a scandal and Mrs. Cunningham was to have testified that a stranger whom she met on a train tried to induce her to conspire against him.

Mr. Funk testified that he had never seen Mrs. Henning until she appeared in court to testify at this trial. He said he had known Hines for several years and had had occasional business dealings with him. His testimony was not changed by cross examination.

RAILWAY COMMISSION EXAMINES WITNESSES

Testimony Taken As to Need of Physical Connection Between Telephone Systems.

Pursuant to the petition of Emmet D. McGowan of this city, the Wisconsin Railway Commission this morning held a hearing in the municipal court room at the city hall for the purpose of taking testimony as to the public necessity and convenience of physical connection between the telephone lines of the Wisconsin Telephone company and the Rock County Telephone company. The examination of the seven witnesses subpoenaed was conducted by Secretary L. E. Gettle, and the official reporter of the commission took a verbatim report of the testimony. The witnesses examined were Sanford Soverrahl, V. P. Richardson, George Rummel, Ralph Howard, George W. Bressee, C. S. Jackman and H. P. Ratlow of Tiffany. The Wisconsin Telephone company was represented at the hearing by Edmund Mack of the firm of Miller, Mack and Fairchild, Milwaukee, and Richard Valentine appeared for the Rock County Telephone company.

That the proposed physical connection of the telephone lines would be a great public convenience and not result in any hardship to the companies was the general trend of the testimony. The proceeding was instituted by Mr. McGowan under the statute which empowers the railway commission to order such connections made after investigation and hearing. Should connection be ordered the commission would establish the toll charges between the local or long distance lines of the two companies at the present time if a long distance call for a certain person is received at the central office of one company and the person called is on another line it has been the practice to notify the person on that line by a message for him on the other line, but no connection is made.

The matter has been held open for further consideration and the commission before announcing its decision may have one of its experts make an investigation on which to base toll charges. The commission recently ordered physical connection between the telephone lines at La Crosse.

BAPTIST CLERGYMEN ATTENDED MEETING

The Rev. J. C. Hazen and the Rev. L. G. Catchpole at Meeting Board of Managers in Milwaukee.

The Rev. Joseph Chalmers Hazen, pastor of the First Baptist church, and the Rev. L. G. Catchpole yesterday attended the meeting of the board of managers of the Wisconsin Baptist State convention in Milwaukee. There are thirty-six churches, clergy and laymen who are members of the committee. Expenditures totaling $23,000 were reported for the last fiscal year and the appropriations made for state work and work in new fields during the coming year reach $17,000. The local church donated for home and foreign missions during the past year $1,100, and for local work $250, which sum included $70 donated toward playgrounds, and $103 for the relief of the Ohio flood sufferers, making the total budget $1,450. Next Monday morning there will be a meeting in Milwaukee of the state apportionment committee to apportion the budget to the churches of the state. The Rev. Hazen has been a member of this committee for four years and is now its chairman.

OBITUARY

Edgar A. Day.

Edgar A. Day, an old resident of Beloit, and a brother of P. J. Day and Mary Day of this city, died at his home on Monday evening from a complication of diseases. He had been in feeble health for a long time.

Mr. Day was 73 years of age and had been a resident of Beloit since 1854, coming from England, where he was born. For many years he carried on a restaurant and confectionery business on State street in partnership with an uncle, Mr. Andrews. He served in the common council from 1892 to 1900 as alderman from the third ward. He was a member of the Blue Lodge, the Chapter and Beloit Commandery Knights Templar. He never married, but had a home on Fourth avenue, where he always resided in Beloit.

Mr. Day possessed those sterling characteristics of manhood that readily brought those to him for counsel and aid and he proved a good and a wise friend, and he will always be remembered with kindness and respect.

He is survived by a brother, T. J., and a sister, Mary, at Janesville; a brother, George, lives at Chillicothe, Ohio, and there is a brother and three sisters in England.

The funeral will be held under Masonic auspices Thursday at half past two o'clock in the Episcopal church at Beloit, and there will be services at the house at two o'clock.

SUIT AGAINST TOWN OF MILTON TO JURY

Testimony and Arguments in Personal Injury Action Were Concluded This Noon.

Testimony and arguments in the case of James P. Gage versus the town of Milton to recover damages for injuries received by reason of an alleged defective and unguarded roadway, were concluded at noon today and the jury was charged and sent out early this afternoon. Charles E. Pierce presented the case for the plaintiff and M. O. Mount for the defendant. As soon as the jury was sent out another was at once drawn to try the case of Nicholas Reilly versus Charles Thompson, an assault and battery action. The contending parties are both Janesville people. J. J. Cunningham is attorney for the plaintiff and T. S. Neap counsel for the defense.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS' MEETING THIS EVENING

The second meeting of the Sunday school teachers of the Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian churches in the Union Teachers' Training Course will be held at the Congregational church at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The speakers will be Supt. H. C. Buell and the Rev. T. D. Williams.

Proper Way to Pot Plant.

Mrs. John Purroy Mitchel.

So busy has been John Purroy Mitchel, candidate for mayor of New York, since his marriage four years ago, he has had no time to think of the long deferred honeymoon.

"Just as soon as election is over with," Mrs. Mitchel said, "I am going to insist that he take me on my honeymoon trip."

BESSEY STOCK COMPANY CONTINUES TO PLEASE

The Jack Bessey stock company continued their sensational run in Janesville at the Myers Opera house last evening with the presentation of a three-act western drama "At Circle C Ranch." Every seat in the house was occupied and Jack Bessey again displayed his ability as leading man in his company.

The plot of the performance was centered around existing troubles between Mexico and United States and the scenes laid at Circle C ranch near the border line. Jack Bessey impersonates Thomas Bean of Boston, millionaire owner of the ranch, also a secret service detective who discovers that the Mexicans are planning an attack upon an unprotected American town. By the aid of wireless telegraphy he foils the attempt of Madero and his aids to ravage the city. Billy, the ranch orphan, proved a picturesque character and was taken by Nell Paul. Although the plot is highly imaginary the play was well presented and pleased the audience.

A SORE THROAT

Exposes the Whole System to Germs.

Ex-Sheriff B. W. D. Barnes' Experience.

of all sorts. This cannot be avoided. If the throat is healthy the system is protected from the most common germs. But the throat is raw and punctured with numerous little ulcers, by catarrh; then the disease germs have easy access to the system.

Keep the throat, chest and clean. This is the way to protect yourself against contagious diseases. Gargle the throat, as explained in the new "His of Life," sent free by the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Barnes, of McMinnville, Tenn., used to be sheriff of Warren County, Tennessee. From exposure to the elements he acquired throat trouble. He supposed that his health was entirely ruined, in spite of all the treatment he could procure.

After using four bottles of Peruna he claims he was entirely restored to health.

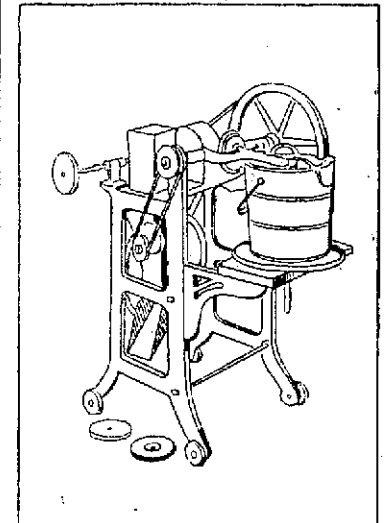

Mr. Barnes says: "I had throat trouble and had three doctors treating me. All failed to do me any good, and pronounced my health gone. I concluded to try Peruna, and after using four bottles can say I was entirely relieved."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

A HANDY MACHINE

Electric Power Device Has Variety of Accomplishments.

For an all-around labor and time-saving device, the electric power machine patented by an Ohio man deserves a medal. This machine will freeze ice-cream, the inventor claims, in a few moments—crack ice for grape fruit and soft drinks, sharpen tools, clean silver and do a host of other things that ordinarily are done by hand. It also has an attachment that will operate any washing or ironing machine that has a dry-wheel. An emery wheel sharpens knives and scissors; a brush wheel cleans powder and dirt from the crevices and embezzling of silver; a buffer polishes the silver—and so on, almost ad infinitum. The ice crusher is a galvanized hopper and large chunks of ice poured into the top comes out of the bottom in little pieces. The machine is designed to be attached to an electric light socket.

Musical Plant.

In Nubia there is a strange plant called "isofar." When the wind blows it sends forth musical sounds closely resembling those of a flute. The natives, who are ignorant, superstitious people, regard the plant with dread. There is no reason for this, for the plant gives forth its unusual sounds because of certain thorns at its base, pierced with tiny holes by insects who search for the gum in the plant.

Snake Cleared the House.

Evicted by a snake, the occupants of a house at Beaulieu, Inverness, Scotland, suffered an unwelcome surprise, the other day. The snake escaped from a traveling menagerie and found its way into the house. This so terrified the occupants that they left the building until some men killed the reptile. A mason had to dislodge two large stones in the foundations to reach the snake's hiding place.

WHAT'S INDIGESTION? WHO CARES? LISTEN

"Pape's Diapiesin" makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headaches.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapiesin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapiesin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

Marvelous Memory.

One of the most astonishing mnemonic feats on record is recorded by John Wesley. "I know a man about twenty years ago," writes Wesley, "who was so thoroughly acquainted with the Bible that if he was questioned as to any Hebrew word in the Old, or any Greek word in the New Testament, he would tell, after a little pause, not only how often the one or the other occurred in the Bible, but also what it meant in every place. His name was Thomas Walsh. Such a master of Bible knowledge I never saw before, and never expect to see again."

First Mausoleum in Asia.

The first mausoleum was made in Asia Minor. Artemisia married her brother, Mausolus, king of Caria, in Asia Minor, about 377 B. C. After his death his body was burned and she drank in liquor his ashes, and erected to his memory at Halicarnassus a monument, one of the seven wonders of the world, which was termed Mausoleum. The statue of Mausolus was among the antiquities brought from Halicarnassus by C. T. Newton in 1857, and placed in the British museum.

Jewel Thief's Clever Idea.

A noted jewel thief was in the habit of boldly entering hotels in the West end of London, carrying under his arm a small parcel containing a soft cheese. Quickly marching upstairs, he would enter the rooms that were not at the time being occupied, pilfer any articles of jewelry that were lying about on the dressing tables, bury them in the cheese, and return the way he had come. In this manner he appropriated no less than £6,000 worth of jewels within twelve months.

SPORT Snap-Shots

The American league slipped overfield by that time. Keating was at a record the past season in development of St. Louis. He and expects a bunch of young twirlers, these Nick Sulop ear things up next like of which has never been seen before and that makes another child full many a day. At least ten wonder. Altogether quite a list of youngsters with speed and class have talent to pick up in one season by been brought to the fore in the sea-ny league.

In spite of the fact that Yale seems to have lost a little form this season of two their defense this fall is almost immovable and the fans in the East are interested in speculating as to whether or not Harvard will be able to score a touchdown on the Elis. Harvard undoubtedly has a strong team this fall, perhaps stronger than the whole than Yale's, and yet there is some little doubt expressed by the experts when it is suggested that the Crimson will cross the goal line of the Blue. Pickney, Hurdwick and others of the Harvard squad will doubt make a strenuous effort to do southpaw delivery. Both will benefit by experience but they both have the earmarks. Of course we need hardly mention Joe Bush with the Athletics. He is the bright nucleus of a star of the whole push. But he was a raw kid at that when Connie Mack first took him on hand. George Daus, with the St. Louis Browns, would have done bigger things had he been pitching for a regular ball team. He showed wonderfully considering the manner in which his support loves to boot the ball about. New York grabbing a youngster in Ray Keating, who will show up next season if the Yanks learn how to what has seldom been done before. In all the history of the Yale-Harvard games there have been just an even dozen Harvard men to score a goal down in Yale. In 1886 Bert Holden carried the ball for the first time over the Yale goal line. He has been followed in years since by C. A. Porter in 1887, Dean and Lee in 1890, in '94 J. J. Hayes, in '98 W. T. Reid, Ben Dibble in '98, Blakely, Ristler and Graydon all scampered across it in 1901, and Bob Storer and Charles Brickley managed to score touchdowns on Yale last fall. Bill Reid is the only Harvard man who ever scored more than one touchdown on Yale to date. There's a chance for Brickley to immortalize himself this fall, but eastern critics say that he has a large job on his hands.

NO RADICAL CHANGE IS SHOWN IN STATE FOOTBALL CIRCLES

Condition of Affairs in High School Elimination Struggle Shows Little Improvement Over Last Week.

There are from four to five weeks more to eliminate the twenty some teams down to two, if the state title is to be settled definitely this fall. The conditions over that of a week ago, are not favorable toward meeting this final goal. There is a chance, however, of accomplishing this feat, if the stronger recognized eleven pull away with consecutive wins for the remainder of the season.

Oshkosh conquered the Fox River valley stunning stone, in West Green last Saturday, by winning 19 to 0. This gives the title of the north-eastern section of Wisconsin to Oshkosh.

Madison's overwhelming victory over Beloit, places her in a good position for honors. The Madison eleven play La Crosse next Saturday at the latter place, and if Madison wins the game, the southern state title without doing injustice to any other teams. If she loses to La Crosse, then Racine and Waukesha will be reckoned with for southern state honors. This is true, because Waukesha defeated Racine 7 to 0 last Saturday, which gives Racine another chance while La Crosse was defeated by Grand Rapids high school 9 to 0 at Grand Rapids.

Appleton is going good at present, with several good wins to her credit. South and East Division high schools from Milwaukee must be given a showing with outside eleven, if they wish to participate in the title. Tomahawk played Merrill out of the running by a 13 to 7 victory. Sparta and Janah are probably the strongest contenders in the central section of the state.

The complex condition of affairs at present almost warrants the state championship to be left in the dark this year. Sectional titles are all that can be won unless the situation changes more quickly in the next two weeks.

To those who are interested in the southern section of this state, there is little chance for Beloit, Janesville, Jefferson, Watertown, Wausau, or Whitewater. It is not known whether the latter school has an eleven worthy of mention, but if they have, and wish to enter their squad into championship circles, they had better get busy for time is precious, now that the title is so far in doubt.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

Captain Hoge, of the Army eleven, and Gluchist, the Navy leader, both play end.

Wagner, Pittsburgh's star football player, is not related to Honus Wagner, the Pirate shortstop.

The Harvard eleven has been extremely fortunate this season insofar as injuries to players are concerned.

Wilson, of the Yale squad, who was first tried at quarter, is making a brilliant showing as a running back.

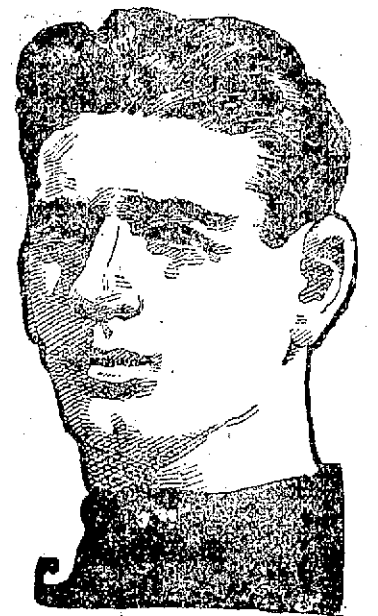

Eddie Hart and Doc Hildebrand are working overtime at Princeton trying to bolster up the Tiger rush line for the Harvard game.

In beating both Michigan and Wisconsin the Michigan Aggies have shown the best football in the Middle West so far this season.

Dartmouth is in great condition for its game with Pennsylvania. The Green is out to duplicate its grand work at Princeton in the coming battle with the Quakers.

In recognition of the great battle Washington and Jefferson put up against Yale, Captain Ketcham gave

MICHIGAN AGGIE IS GRIDIRON STAR

Blake Miller.

One of the brightest stars of the gridiron this year is Blake Miller, who plays left end on the Michigan Agricultural college team. It was due more to his splendid playing than to any other factor that the Aggies defeated the University of Michigan recently. Miller hails from Tonawanda, N. Y.

MAY DESERT CUBS FOR OUTLAW LEAGUE

Tommy Leach, the Chicago Cubs pitcher, is a bad punisher of shoe leather. It is not an uncommon thing for Leach to use two pairs of shoes in a single game, and then toss them aside forever after the contest.

Captain Henry, of Brown, received a shaking up in the Gilt Edge train accident at Westerly, Conn., recently. Henry had been on the football injured list and his experience on the "choochoo" didn't help his injured leg a bit.

SQUAD IN PRACTICE; CLASS GAMES AHEAD

Regulars Change Lineup During Absence of Dalton—Juniors vs. Seniors and Freshmen vs. Sophs Next Week.

The local eleven, discouraged more than ever over their defeat by Jefferson last Saturday, appeared for practice yesterday in fine style. Dalton and Jones were the only regulars absent from the squad. A stiff signal drill, with Stewart at quarterback, followed by a scrimmage against the sophomores, made up the work for the afternoon. The eleven are planning only light work for this week, in hopes of experiencing a reversal of form before the Monroe contest, scheduled to be played on the local gridiron, on November, the fifteenth. The lineup for yesterday's scrimmage was as follows:

Regulars—Smiley, J. E.; Schenk, L. T.; Badger, L. E.; Mount, C.; McCulloch, R. G.; McVicar, R. T.; Pond, R. M.; Stewart, G. B.; Atwood, L. H.; Dearborn, R. H.; Hayes, L. H.

The scrimmage was good after, discarding the many touchdowns registered by the regulars. The sophs played in real form, and promise to make things hot for the other class teams next week.

The class games will be played in the afternoon, some day next week. The freshman and sophomore eleven will clash, while the juniors and seniors are battling. The members of the first squad cannot participate in the class games. Winners of the preliminary games will meet at a later date to determine the title of the school.

WITH THE BOXERS.

George (Knockout) Brown and Tom Gibbons will meet in Hudson, Wis., Nov. 11.

Patsy Cardiff, the old-time heavy-weight boxer, has been sent to an asylum at Salem, Ore.

Promoter Jim Coffroth, of San Francisco, is trying to arrange a clash between Mike Gibbons and Jimmy Clabber.

Distribution of Travel Books

The literature describing the pleasure tours which lure the modern tourist in such numbers, is unusually attractive this season. In preparing these booklets, the world is ransacked for interesting photographs, while the text prepared by experienced writers is a valuable contribution to the literature of travel. A series of booklets has been prepared for free distribution, descriptive of the pleasure tours of the various steamship lines. This of the season which set a new standard for such publication. The books describe with profuse illustrations the pleasure tours to the West Indies and the Panama Canal; to the Mediterranean, the Orient and India; and around the world. These books are free to the public at the GAZETTE TRAVEL BUREAU. In their general appearance they compare favorably with the work of the best magazines. Any traveler who has made or contemplates making these journeys will find these booklets a valuable addition to his library.

CARDINALS PREPARE TO MEET OHIO TEAM

Coach Juneau Warns His Men Against Over-Confidence in Result of Saturday's Game. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Nov. 5.—Although recognizing that Ohio state is not a formidable foe this year, the Cardinal team is preparing for an early Saturday game with Jack Wilcox's pretenses with no sign of over-confidence. This spirit was impressed upon the members of the team by Coach Juneau. The varsity team was drilled on signals yesterday afternoon while the second eleven skirmished with the freshmen. The entire first squad was on the field, all feeling some in body from last week's grueling game with the Northmen but with spirits apparently undamped.

The athletic board yesterday relieved the director of athletics of power to raise the price of tickets. It is felt that the $2 maximum for non-students is high enough for a football game, and the board would give the director power to fix the price of tickets only with the approval of the faculty. Some complaint of the high price of admission was voiced by returning alumni last Saturday. Students are admitted for 50 cents and there is a growing opinion the same privilege should extend to alumni. The non-student admission fixed at $2 applies to grandstand seats, while the bleachers at the ends of the field are worth $1 a seat. Box seats are quoted at $3.

Next to the Ohio state game next Saturday, the big free-for-all hardican cross country race promises to be the sensation of the day. Everybody in the university is eligible to compete and men will be handicapped according to their previous experience, ability and physical training. It is estimated that 80 to 75 men will participate. The race will probably be run at 11 a. m.

DOWNFALL OF TAMMANY.

Tammany's downfall at the election in New York city yesterday, the victory of the fusion forces led by Mitchell, the young anti-Tammany leader, is the beginning of the end of this wonderful political organization that has so long throttled the very life of not only municipal New York city, but even of the state itself. This wonderful organization founded over a century ago, in whose ranks Aaron Burr was enrolled, whose dictates have been obeyed by petty politicians, legislators, governors and even presidents, is about to be thrown into the discard. The straw that broke the camel's back, personified by the voters, was the impeachment of Governor Sulzer, their puppet they had placed in the chair of the governor at Albany who refused to do their bidding and in consequence paid the penalty of being driven from office. The rottenness of the whole corrupt organization was brought to light and the vote Tuesday was the repudiation of the system and the system's leaders. Not only did Tammany lose the city organization, but even the whole county ticket and throughout the state its methods were repudiated by the election of an anti-Tammany legislature which will be headed by the same Sulzer whom they turned out of the office of governor but a short month ago. It is a complete victory for the anti-forces throughout and the wigwag of "Big Chief" Murphy will be deserted by his hitherto faithful henchmen.

BACK TO THE FOLD.

One analysis of the elections throughout the country Tuesday shows the truth of the statement made in many quarters recently that the Bull Moose organization was slowly becoming disintegrated, the men who bolted the republican party at the last election returning to their former party allegiance. This was true in Maryland where sixty per cent of the progressives voted the republican ticket Tuesday. New York state has returned to the republican fold, with a good working majority in the legislature and but few progressives to be found. Massachusetts, however, still maintains its progressive vote to a certain extent, but it is considerably less than a year ago and another election will see the whole situation changed. New Jersey, where the democratic leaders centered their energy will probably be democratic, but this is no real criterion of the situation there as federal patronage played an important part and for an off year, with but few real issues at stake, the vote is satisfactory to the republican leaders. Taking it all in all it looks as though the wave of progressivism is on the wane and the voters are returning to their former sensible state of mind.

THE MOVIES.

In a recent copy of the Moving Picture World, a magazine devoted to the interests of this new line of amusement that has invaded every city and town in the country, the following editorial taken from the Denver Times is reproduced. As it hits directly upon the subject taken up a few days ago in these columns it is reprinted. It is apropos of the recent exploitation of sensationalism.

"It must prove a trying ordeal for the conservative and constructive exhibitor who, while clinging to his ideals and presenting an entertainment that he knows to be excellent, sees the apparent profits gleaned from the so-called 'features' of a lurid and sensational type. Such productions, if they may be given that title, are sure to prove a boomerang and reflect discredit upon the business in general and especially upon those whose have planted the seeds of decline. The solution lies with the exhibitor, in spite of his protests that the public demands it, for certainly photo-play has outgrown the museum days and the public mind is not so distorted that it must be whetted by crime and fed upon glory drama."

That is the matter in a nutshell. The motion picture business has passed beyond the museum stage, but a lot of the exhibitors have not.

WASTED SYMPATHY.

The other day a woman from Kansas spent a few hours at East Aurora, having just dropped in on the away home from an excursion to Niagara Falls. This woman was left a widow six years ago, with a brood of seven youngsters, the oldest one not fifteen. At the time her husband passed away I remember sending her a letter of sympathy and condolence. I thought of how hard and difficult her position in life was, and I expressed my feelings in good and conventional English sob stuff.

But when I met the lady the other day I did not waste any of the lachrymose on her case. She informed me, in the course of a little talk, that her oldest son was manager of an elevator at fifteen hundred a year, and the oldest daughter was teaching school and drawing eighty dollars a month. Then the lady went on to tell me she had just sold five carloads of steers that netted her in Chicago an even ninety dollars a head. There were sixteen steers in a carload, which makes eighty head in all. The amount of good mazuma this woman received, after deducting freight, was a trifle over seven thousand dollars.

She told us that she was raising cattle with the intention of marketing a hundred head a year.

She also was raising hogs so to send to the packers about three hundred head a year. These at present prices would bring at least twenty dollars each, and she keeps no more live stock than she can raise feed for.

She has cleaned up the mortgage since her husband's death, and, all things considered, is getting along fairly well.

And yet we are sometimes told that women have no head for business.

What is business, anyway, beyond supplying human wants? And that is just what housekeeping is. Farming is running a garden and keeping house on a little bigger scale than the average housewife does.

The reason this woman is not miserable is because she is busy. She is making money. She is bringing to bear a degree of attention to details and a wise supervision which the average man, perhaps, does not and cannot.

Also, let nobody feel sorry for the farmers of America.

High prices mean prosperity for the farmers, and when the farmers have money to buy with business is on a safe footing.

We hear considerable about business being dull, this for the reason that banks have not had money to loan equal to the demand.

Instead of business being poor, however, this tokens that business is good.

Merchants have not over-bought. Stocks carried are small.

There has been very little over-expansion.

Everybody who can work and will work has a job.

Wages were never so high as they are today, and the common people never had so much money as they have now. This is shown by the fact that railroads and steamship lines report the best summer's business they ever had.

Altogether, the general situation is improving slowly, surely, steadily.

WOMEN IN POLITICS.

The vote on the question of wet or dry in the various Illinois cities Tuesday where women enjoy equal suffrage, demonstrates that the woman in politics is no uncertain quantity. In all cities where the question was asked, the vote was for the dry column. This would be true in Wisconsin if the women had a vote in Wisconsin. The question of county option was in vogue. Evidently the women in the political game are to be carefully considered in states where it is granted and the leaders of the great national parties will do well to remember it.

Huerta has his ultimatum, but the Mexican rebellion goes merrily on and is likely to continue indefinitely. The nation is now without the semblance of a recognized head, and the authority to call and conduct a fair election, would be difficult to locate. Better give the rebels plenty of gun and ammunition and let them fight it out.

England will not interfere with our Mexican policy. It is afraid we would send Mrs. Pankhurst home.

The Diary of a Bonehead.

"Stop in at the employment bureau today and, if you can, get a good housemaid and bring her home with you tonight," said my wife as I left the house this morning.

I had just returned from a two weeks' trip east and was in a hurry to get to my office. However, in order to get an early pick of the girls I dropped in at the employment agency on my way down town. I picked a peach. I never saw a manœuvre or a chorus lady who had anything on this housemaid in the way of face or scenery. I picked the queen of the kitchen right up to the front door.

My wife opened the door eagerly and let us in. The recognition between my wife and the housemaid was instantaneous.

"This girl will not do," said my wife grimly.

"Not?" I demanded. The situation was growing embarrassing.

"Because," replied my wife, "she isn't good looking enough and besides, I had her last week while you were away."

According to Uncle Abner.

Every once in a while we hear that the Huerta regime in Mexico is on its last legs and we are constrained to believe that the Huerta regime has got last legs as long as those of a kangaroo or a grasshopper.

A feller never appreciates his wife's cookin' until he hits a few of the country hotels.

A milliner who is hard to look at will never make much of a success of the business. But I never see one that was.

Live and learn, that's the idea. Grandpa Robbins, who is 107 his next birthday has just found out how to get the top off a glass fruit jar.

Amos Butts, our popular and congenial liverman, lost two horses the other night. Later—we learned that he lost 'em stakin' dice.

Altogether, the general situation is improving slowly, surely, steadily.

—Elbert Hubbard, in Chicago Examiner.

This little story from real life is a flattering commentary on woman's ability to meet emergencies and win success. It is also an endorsement of the farm, as an income producer, when intelligently handled.

A good deal of sympathy is wasted on people who till the soil. They are not seeking condolence, and many of them realize that they enjoy more independence than any other class of workers, while rewards are so certain that failures are of rare occurrence.

The market for farm produce, during the past decade, has been a steady market, while the land throughout the country has increased in value every year.

No one envies the farmer his good fortune, because the foundation of nation-wide prosperity is his success, and the nation has prospered as never before.

Rivals Sewing Circle.

One of life's neatest little ironies is the fact that the first arrest under Wisconsin's anti-gossip law was not a woman at a sewing circle, but a man in the barroom.—Milton Junction Telephone.

Sane Philosophy.

"If there were more sermons preached against impure thoughts and fewer against objects, often of themselves quite innocent, which purists are afraid will still impure thoughts, more progress would be made. If our minds are so unclean that we can not see the lines of a woman's body without impure suggestion, the cure should be applied to us, not to her. If thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, has a meaning as valid not as ever."

"Any style can be made suggestive by the wearer or by the imagination of the observer. We can not adopt a style proof against either."—Chicago Tribune.

The Baker Law.

Milwaukee's vigorous and fussy opposition to the Baker law didn't accomplish anything. It was a foregone conclusion that the courts would sustain the law. They did right. Other states have passed, and their courts have upheld, similar laws. Besides, the regulation itself is not unreasonable. If the license theory is to prevail, it must be backed by some sort of limitation as to the number of saloons. Surely one for every two hundred and fifty inhabitants is enough for any civilized city. If Milwaukee can't get along with that proportion, it would do well to establish a pipe line system for the benefit of its thirsty citizens.—Wausau Record-Herald.

Two of the world's most famous dancers, Mr. Bert French and Miss Alice Eis, will be seen in the wonderful three-part Kalem production, "THE VAMPIRE," at LYRIC THEATER, on Saturday, November 8. These renowned artists appear in the theater scene of the picture and present their "Vampire Dance," one of the most extraordinary dances ever shown. The story tells of a country boy who falls into the clutches of an adventuress. She drags him down. When at the lowest depths of degradation, he wanders into a music hall and sees Bert French and Alice Eis in their "Vampire Dance." It tells of an ambitious young artist ensnared by the terrible wiles of a human vampire. The artist is overcome and is lured to death. To the country boy, the playlet seems to picture his own life with the adventuress. Rushing from the theater he turns over a new leaf and marries his little country sweetheart.

AND now we are to learn dancing by motion pictures! A three-reel feature that gives a series of comprehensive dancing lessons has just been produced by KALEM and will be shown at THE LYRIC on Monday, November 10. These lessons, called the "MOTION PICTURE DANCING LESSONS," are given by New York's most famous dancers, Mr. Wallace McCutcheon and Miss Joan Sawyer. This couple was the sensation of the New York Theater Roof Garden last summer, and at the present time are instructors to the members of the famous "400."

The dances taught are the Tango, Turkey Trot and the Hesitation Waltz. As shown in the "MOTION PICTURE DANCING LESSONS," these dances are marvels of beauty and grace. Each is shown step by step, and should aid any person who sees the pictures to become an accomplished dancer.

The Tango, Turkey Trot and Hesitation Waltz are first shown, as danced by the patrons of one of New York's most famous cabarets. Later, Mr. McCutcheon and Miss Sawyer take the floor and show their method. The scene shifts to Mr. McCutcheon's studio, where he is seen teaching several pupils the dances named. To better illustrate the steps, the pictures, at intervals, show just the lower limbs. It is a most unusual feature and well worth seeing.

SCHOOL BOARD AGREE

TO ELIMINATE CLASS

PLAY AT GRADUATION

Decided Upon Question at Regular Session Monday Evening—May Substitute Musical Program in Its Place.

Following a thorough investigation having been selected from the school board of this city, who are instructed to look after the best interests of the school, the class play, which has been given each year as a part of the commencement exercises by the members of the senior class, will not be given this year, or in the future. The members of the board placed their negative signatures to the question that the class play be given at their regular monthly meeting.

Many reasons were given as being objectionable to the play, and all of these reasons met with approval by the members of the senior class who heard Prof. Buell outline the facts to them at a special meeting yesterday. At present the class are satisfied over the refusal of the board, but what their attitude in the spring will be, is yet to be learned.

A chief reason which the board objected to, was that too much time had been taken by the members of the cast in the past, and that it had been the custom that the actors and actresses be at the school as early as seven o'clock in the morning before school, and practice until nine or ten o'clock in the evening practice sessions.

Superintendent Buell has many numbers, which he will substitute in place of the play, and he believes they will be of as much interest as the play has been in former years. At present Miss Emily Sewell is in charge of three musical organizations, that will be capable of presenting something of a high class by the close of the school year in June. Prof. Shearer is instructing a public speaking class for senior boys. With the two glee clubs, orchestra of twenty pieces, orators, combined with the class with money, history and song, there should be plenty of ideas to make up a substitute program, and have it meet with as much approval as the former play.

Chorus work will soon be taken up as a part of the students' daily instruction. This special work will be taken in by the entire student body, and will occupy the time which is spent in the morning period of study, or the fifteen minutes between eight and nine o'clock. The school board have bought music books, and the work will start sometime within the next few weeks.

DEBATE TRY-OUT WILL BE ON MONDAY NIGHT

At Least Twelve Speakers Have Prepared Speeches for Early Season Preliminary Contests.

On next Monday evening at eight-fifteen, following the regular sessions of the boys' literary societies, will be held the annual preliminary try-outs for the debating teams. Two teams will be chosen from last year's champions, and the other two from the new recruits. Material is abundant, as at least a dozen have prepared their opening addresses to be given at that time. Among the speakers will be the two who lost in the last year's championship teams, Alvin Dearborn and Russell Smiley. These two men with experience are sure to make a strong showing for places on one of the teams, but they must, however, face some strong opposition, before they can be proved winners by the judges.

Forensic enthusiasm is keyed up to the highest pitch this year. There are many reasons for this, but the main one is that last year the two local teams met with unusual success, capturing the title of Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin as members of the triple college league. Another champion, in the line of the world, greatly added to the string of titles now in the school. The school spirit is now being attracted to debating, in hopes of gaining this winter what the local team lost during this fall. As for basketball, that will take care of itself.

ELKS WILL PRESENT MID-WINTER CIRCUS

Lodge Decides to Stage Big Production to Celebrate Completion of Milwaukee Street Bridge.

Grand, greater and more magnificent than ever before! A production which will rival in brilliancy and splendor the great exhibitions of Colonel Nonesuch! In this manner does the press agent for this monster Mid-Winter Circus which will be staged under the auspices of Janesville lodge, No. 251, F. P. O. 15, announce the presentation of the most elaborate production which will celebrate the completion of the new Milwaukee street bridge.

At the lodge meeting last evening the matter was brought up for discussion and the decision was reached. A committee composed of Frank Hayes, Thomas G. Murphy and Fred Baker was named to have entire charge of the affair, which will be held at the city hall on Friday for the event will be announced later.

Other fraternal orders may be asked to co-operate in the staging of the big production and the best talent available in the city will be secured. Needless to say, it will be one huge scream from beginning to end. The committee has already planned some novel features but they are in the hands of the stage manager and may be induced to pay liberally for doing which can be developed into successful stunts. If you have an idea let them hear of it.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS AT THE COURT HOUSE

Committees on Claims and on Equalization in Session—Take Up Customary Work.

Standing committee No. 13 of the Rock county board of supervisors, whose duty it is to audit the claims of the county, met this afternoon at the court house and continued in session today. District Attorney Stanley Dunwiddie and Sheriff C. S. Whipple appeared before it. The members of the committee as at present constituted are S. B. Heddies, O. A. Peterson and John Cullen. Mr. Peterson represents the village of Rockford, the other members of the committee being Janesville men.

Committee No. 12 on Equalization, which was to have met on October 30, but the meeting of which was postponed because of the enforced absence of Supervisor of Assessments F. A. Smith, met at the court house this afternoon to determine the value of all county property and fix the equalization of taxes. The committee is composed of the following members: 1st district, C. A. Smith, W. B. Maxson, Henry Ebbott, John Sherman, 2nd district, W. A. Rossow, W. W. Swingle, B. C. Hansen and C. J. Stoney.

SIXTY TEACHERS GO TO MILWAUKEE TODAY

Large Delegation in Special Car Left for Cream City to Attend 61st Annual Convention Beginning Thursday.

More than sixty teachers from the Janesville public schools left this afternoon at 4 o'clock for Milwaukee to attend the 61st annual convention of the state teachers' association, which begins tomorrow, extending until Sunday.

The remainder of the list of local pedagogues, including those from the rural schools who could not get away today, will leave early in the morning for the Cream City.

The train which left this afternoon carried two special coaches out of here, and it will gather teachers from stations between here and Milwaukee. Close to six thousand from the entire state are expected to attend the convention this year, which promises to exceed that of former years both in attendance and in accomplishments.

MATRIMONIAL

Heagney-Jones.
Miss Calla Heagney and Byron Jones were married at St. Patrick's day morning, the Rev. Father Mahoney reading the service. They were attended by Walter Heagney and Miss Gertrude Heagney, brother and sister of the bride. Miss Heagney wore a gown of white, carried a bouquet of white lilies, and wore a wreath of white roses and a white veil. The bridesmaid wore light blue tulle and carried a bouquet of carnations.

A wedding breakfast was served following the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas Heagney, 382 Western avenue, after which Mr. and Mrs. Jones left for Raleigh, North Carolina, where they will spend the winter months. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, Myrtle street.

Arnold-Hagar.
Miss Esther Arnold of Hanover, and Harry Hagar of this city, were quietly married this morning at 10 o'clock at the Congregational church parsonage, on South Jackson street, ceremony being read by the Rev. Arthur Beaton. The bride was attended by Miss Anna Kuehn, who was bridesmaid. The bride wore pink satin with an overdraped chiffon and carried a bouquet of roses.

Following the ceremony, a luncheon was served after which the bride and groom left for Burlington, Waterford and East Troy on a short honeymoon. They will be at home to their many friends after November the tenth.

Water High: The water in the river above the upper dam registered 13 1/2 inches above the government mark at 10 o'clock this morning. Over 15 inches at eleven o'clock last night. The river is slowly lowering since the heavy rains ceased.

Retiree Lower: When the motor fire truck collided with the 2500 lb. drawn hose wagon several weeks ago, Chief Klein's estimate of the cost of repairs, based on the usual experience with fire apparatus company charges, was between $200 and $250. He was pleasantly surprised to find that the Seagrave Company's charges did not exceed $30.

CONGREGATIONAL YOUNG MEN'S CLUB WILL MEET
Members of the young men's club of the Congregational church will hold their last supper and meeting of the season at the church parlors at six-fifteen this evening. E. E. Hamerson will give an address on the training of a varsity football team and an account of the Wisconsin-Minnesota game will be given by an eye witness. A large attendance and enjoyable time is anticipated.

TO SEND DELEGATE TO STATE MEETING

County Suffrage Association Will Elect Representatives at Session Saturday Afternoon.

The twenty-eighth annual convention of the Wisconsin Woman Suffrage Association will be held at Madison on November 19 and 20.

This is the first general meeting of the association since its fusion with the Wisconsin Political Equality League last February, and since it represents practically all the woman suffrage sentiment of the state for the first time in many years it promises to be a most interesting one.

The Rock county association, which is auxiliary to the state body, is entitled to send one delegate to every ten members. The delegates have not yet been named, but several local suffragists are already planning to attend and are already in ready with Miss Alice B. Curtis, who will be remembered as one of the first organizers who ever visited Janesville. Miss Curtis is in charge of the new headquarters at 431-432 Washington building, which have been recently opened in Madison, as the result of the association's decision to maintain permanent headquarters at the state capitol. The hotel headquarters will be at the New Park. The general topic of the convention will be "Education for Citizenship."

The Rock county association will hold a meeting in Library Hall on Saturday, November 8, at 3 p. m. for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention. The president, Mrs. Laughlin will read a paper which she gave before the Rock county ministers, which deals with the evolution of the woman movement in a new and thoughtful providing manner. This is the first meeting of the winter season, and the summer's activity in raising money and helping with Woman's Day at the local Chautauqua will be reported.

MARVELOUS BIRD ACT AT APOLLO

Trained Cuckatoos Show An Intelligence That Is Surprising.

Swain's Australian Cuckatoos which close their engagement at the Apollo Theatre with tonight's performance, tonight will show the most marvelous bird act that has ever appeared on the vaudeville stage. They appear to have an intelligence that is remarkable. Think of a bird being able to play "Home, Sweet Home," on the chimes, to tell time. Think of a bird after hearing a number called from the audience, ringing a bell the required number of times. That is what these birds do and that is only a part. It is an attraction that no one can afford to miss. Advertisement.

RUSSIA AND CHINA SIGN AN AGREEMENT

Settlement Reached in Regard to Autonomy of Outer Mongolia.

Peking, China, Nov. 5.—A Russo-China agreement by which China recognizes the autonomy of outer Mongolia was signed here today. Russia continues to acknowledge Chinese sovereignty and undertakes to refrain from colonization or military occupation of the country aside from consular guards.

The agreement provides that autonomous outer Mongolia shall comprise those regions formerly under the jurisdiction of the Chinese government at Urga, the Tartar general at Elbasutai and the Chinese governor at Kobdo, but since no detailed map of the country exist the exact future frontier will be the subject of negotiation.

BEATON'S RESIGNATION WILL BE ACTED UPON

Solves the Dress Problem

This is the age of dress. Nothing can ever take the place of the dainty hand embroidered fabrics. The most expensive shirtwaists, collars, lingerie, corset covers, jabots, etc., can be made at home for a mere trifle of expense. The Imperial Pattern Outfit is a boon to mothers. Everything necessary for the girls and the baby is included.

Solves the Home Decoration Problem

Designs for table linen, guest towels, all sorts of doilies, dresser scarfs, center pieces, pillow cases, picture frames, hand bags, pin cushions, pillow tops, also numerous odd designs for borders, alphabets, rose sprays, butterflies, bowknots, wreaths, etc., etc.

Each Pattern equal to three of the old style

These new and wonderful patterns can easily—almost magically—be transferred to any kind of material in a twinkling. The patterns are made by a secret process, which does away with the old-fashioned perforated, smudgy carbons or hot iron. All you need to do is to moisten the pattern, and the design is instantly transferred, and each pattern will transfer from three to five times.

FAMOUS AMERICAN INDIANS

ALBERT PAXSON TERNUM

COCHISE.

"No white man has looked upon Cochise and lived to tell of it!"

So ran the New Mexico saying. And for many years it was the truth. Cochise was chief of the Chiricahua Apaches. High in the Dragon mountains of New Mexico he had a mighty fortress where he and his band of 500 "hostiles" lived, and from which they issued from time to time on havoc-making raids. This fortress was almost impossible for an outsider to find. No body of soldiers could penetrate to it, to say nothing of storming it.

Cochise openly laughed at the government's puny efforts to check his murderous career. He lived like one of the robber barons of old. Scouts would tell him of the approach of some emigrant train, a stage coach or a provision caravan along the neighboring lowlands. Down from his mountain retreat he would swoop at the head of his wild native freebooters, and would slaughter every white man, woman and child in the party, rifling the provisions, etc., destroying the wagons and driving off the horses, mules and cattle.

Wild Raids on Caravans. Before troops could be sent to avenge the crime Cochise and his band would be safely hidden among the rocky fastnesses of their mountains. At last the roads and trails of the district were practically abandoned by travelers. In only one instance during all his years of freebooting did Cochise spare any white man he met. That was in the case of a red-bearded hunter and guide named Jeffords. Why Cochise not only allowed Jeffords to live but actually chose him for a dear friend, no white man ever knew. But Jeffords was made welcome to the fortress whenever he cared to visit it, and he even received from Cochise the affectionate nickname of Tagli-to (Red Beard).

Cochise, in his own perverted way, was something of an Indian patriot as well as a robber. He saw the long trains of west-bound caravans that yearly grew more and more numerous. He knew the white men were gradually invading the west and that they were little by little driving the Indians from their old homes. He aimed to stay this tide of westward emigration. Therefore he killed every white man he could lay hands on. Yet, in course of time, he began to see the uselessness of such a course. He once said to Jeffords:

"I have slain ten white men for every one of my own warriors that they have killed. Yet my people steadily grow fewer and one day they will vanish from the earth. And the white men's numbers are no less, no matter how many I destroy."

Yet, at the beginning, Cochise had no especial grudge against the government. The first clash, when he was a young man, came about in this way: Some horses belonging to a New Mexico army post were stolen. The local commandant arrested Cochise and several of his Apache followers on suspicion and put them in a close guarded tent. Cochise alone escaped (with three bullets in his body) by cutting his way out of the canvas and breaking through the cordons of guards. Furious at the insult to which he and his braves had been subjected, he captured a settler and sent word to the commandant that if the other Indian prisoners were harmed he would kill his white captive. The commandant paid no heed to the warning, but hanged the Apache he had seized. Then Cochise made good his threat, and declared war to the death against the white man.

Finally, during President Grant's administration, Gen. O. O. Howard was sent to New Mexico to try to patch up some sort of a peace with Cochise. He met Cochise's nephew, Chie, who, with Jeffords, offered to conduct the general to the mountain fortress if he would agree to take no soldiers along. Howard consented. Bravely he went to the hidden stronghold of the old chief; walking as it seemed, straight into the jaws of death. For he knew Cochise's hatred of the whites and he was going to him alone and defenseless.

A General's Heroic Act. Perhaps the one-armed general's calm courage pleased Cochise. Perhaps, weary of long, useless warfare, the chief was glad of an excuse for peace. At any rate he greeted Howard like a brother and listened to the terms of the treaty which the general outlined to him. He called a council and prayed to the Great Spirit for guidance. The Spirit seems to have endorsed Howard's requests, for, after the prayers, Cochise said:

"No one seeks peace more earnestly than I. Even as your soldiers obey you, so I will obey the President at Washington."

He called his tribesmen together, and with solemn formality the "Great Peace" was cemented at Sulphur Springs. In reward, Cochise received a large strip of excellent public land for his tribe, and his adopted brother, Jeffords, was made Indian agent for the reservation. Thus the "robber baron's" melodramatic adventures wound up tamely enough, and he ended his days in the humdrum role of a "friendly Indian."

QUICKLY STOPS WORST BACKACHE

Makes Kidney, Bladder Disorders and Rheumatic Pains Vanish.

If you suffer with backaching kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders, or are tormented with rheumatism, stiff joints, and heart-wrenching pains you will be surprised how quickly and surely Croxone will relieve all such misery. It soaks right in through the walls, membranes and linings, cleans out and strengthens the stopped up organs, neutralizes dissolves and makes the kidneys sit out and filter away the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs clean, strong, active and healthy.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have tried. It is practically impossible to take Croxone without results, for it starts to work the minute you take it.

If you suffer with pains in the back or sides; if you are nervous, tired and run down; bothered with urinary disorders, or have any signs of kidney, bladder trouble or rheumatism, don't spend another needless day suffering. Secure an original package of Croxone today, and prove for yourself right now, as thousands of others have done, just how quickly it will end your misery. Croxone is inexpensive, and every druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

TRYING TO EXCEL FATHER.

Boy of America—

Do you think you can beat father? If you tried to engage in father's business do you think you could do better than he does?

What a foolish question! Of course not! Why, father is years and years older than you, isn't he? And he has had many years of experience, and he knows his business thoroughly.

That's a good way to think about father.

Now, what do you think about the boys of Illinois, sons of farmers, who have set out to learn enough of agriculture to teach their fathers? They are wearing buttons with the motto, "Can I excel my father?"

And, more—

They say they are going to do it.

The scheme to teach them the newer, better ways of farming is part of the "better farms and farming" movement that is sweeping the United States. It aims at getting the best results from the soil for immediate benefit, at the same time conserving the fertility of the soil so that it will remain good for future generations. It is a worthy movement.

The boys are to be taught, as part of their school work, enough of good farming methods to give them a love of the soil and the work in it. The first move is the formation of boys' one acre clubs, each father of a student bestowing on him that amount of land, with a guarantee that the entire profits shall go to the boy.

But why confine the "Can I excel father?" idea to farm work?

Extend it to all other forms of worthy, honest endeavor.

Where father has done well son may do better. It is up to you, lad, with all your modern, improved education, with the example of father's good work before you, to improve on his record.

You may be sure that father will feel no envy of you and will do his best to push you forward if you show a desire to gain on him. That is the nature of all good fathers. Mighty few of them in the history of the world have been jealous of their sons' success.

Suppose father has done ill?

Then it is still more your duty, lad, to better his record. Show that the fault was in father himself, not in his family.

If for no other reason you owe it to mother to do well, to make the most of yourself and your opportunities, to repay her for the care and love she has spent on you.

For mother's sake, lad!

If you want to buy or sell anything keep up with the procession.

The Theatre

Quo Vadis.

Among the host of interesting characters in George Kleins' marvelous photo drama "Quo Vadis," which comes to the Myers Theatre on Thursday, Nov. 20, for an engagement of three days with daily matinees, none are more enjoyed and respected by the audience than Sig. Castellani as Ursus, the giant slave so thoroughly devoted to his mistress Lygia. He completely realizes in his appearance, height and muscular power, all that our mind pictures of the physical giant who could uproot trees and even tear a huge bull asunder. Castellani was not an actor until he posed for this photo-drama.

When the Cines stage directors posed the play they found no difficulty in securing great actors for the various characters of the story until the came to Ursus. There they were blocked. In all the dramatic profession of France and Italy there was not a man who could in any way approach the realization of Stenikiewicz's modest hero. They were about to give up in despair when one of the directors happened to run across Castellani, who was earning a living as a wrestler, and had jumped suddenly into prominence by throwing two of the largest and most powerful kings of the mat in Sicily. In fact, it developed later that he had a reputation all over Southern Europe as an herculean athlete.

The Cines Company made Castellani a flattering offer for his services for one year and put him under the direction of a competent stage manager for six months. In the photo-drama his performance looms up prominently with all the other players of long experience and he wins as much by his simplicity and naturalness as they for the complexity of their art.

This instance only serves to emphasize the amount of attention to detail, and wonderful care the Cines Company displayed in making "Quo Vadis," which is well deservedly called the premiere photo-drama of the world.

--and the Worst is Yet to Come

CITY HALLS

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

The American city hall is a barometer of municipal honesty. Every American city is equipped with a city hall. It may not have parks, hospitals, playgrounds or boards of health, but it always has a city hall, and it usually owes money on it.

The casual stranger can tell whether to button up his money in an inside pocket when arriving in an unknown town by inspecting its city hall and inquiring its cost. If it appears to have been built of ordinary material and only cost as much as it looks he can linger with safety in that city. But if its cost indicates that sheet gold and powdered diamonds were employed in its construction he had better travel down the middle of the street and secrete himself in a manhole at the approach of a policeman or city official.

Building city halls is indulged in with passionate pleasure by city officials who have forgotten all ten commandments and have invented several new ones to break. Buying stone at exorbitant prices, paying for solid silver furniture that cost $1,000 a ton and looks like 37 cents is a favorite pastime with city hall builders in those towns who hold their noses at municipal elections and their pocket books for ever afterward. Many crowds of earnest, impartial safeblowers have built grand city halls in American cities and have retired for life to live on the income thereof. And the worst of it is the city halls remain, and the citizens have to view them every day with humility and deep crimson blushes.

Chicago is not a phenomenally virtuous town, but it built a city hall recently for less money than was appropriated for the purpose and has been proud about it ever since. On the other hand, Philadelphia has a city hall which reached 537 feet toward Heaven and smells several thousand miles higher than that. It is impossible for Philadelphia to become laughily and noisy about its town, because whenever he attempts it some ribald citizen of elsewhere asks him about his city hall.

One of the Oldest Customs. The "ancient and fantastic" habit of tattooing is common to all races of men. It is coextensive with the limits of the world, and coeval with human history. From the polar regions to the farthest islands of the south the practice has prevailed, and from the first recorded epoch.

A CONSUMPTIVE COUGH. A cough that bothers you continually is one of the danger signals which warns of consumption. Dr. King's New Discovery stops the cough, loosens the chest, banish fever and let you sleep peacefully. The first dose checks the symptoms and gives prompt relief. Mrs. A. F. Mertz, of Glen Ellyn, Iowa, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery cured a stubborn cough after six weeks' doctoring failed to help." Try it, as it will do the same for you. Best medicine for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Money back if it fails. Price 50c & $1.00. All druggists, by mail, H. B. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

No matter where you go, REHBERG Clothes are looked upon as being absolutely correct. Stylish without freakishness—fit, quality, and workmanship the best—they represent the highest example of the tailor's art of today.

WHITTALL RUGS

The Finest in the Country—Superior to All Makes—Unmatched in Beauty, Durability and Value

THE only kind which successfully rival the Oriental. A statement that may be strong but yet thoroughly true. There is no need to exaggerate facts to make them impressive. THAT is why WHITTALL ANGLO PERSIAN RUGS are advertised strongly but without a whit of exaggeration. The simple facts about them are of such strength and interest that only they are needed to convince people of their value.

ANGLO PERSIAN RUGS are rated as the finest rug made in America. This rating is put upon them by dealers. It is given them by critical folks who study a rug from all angles.

It is conceded by practically all other people making rugs.

Position at the top has been won by ANGLO PERSIAN rugs.

No such place is secured without winning.

And winning is dependent upon merit.

To get to the top is easier than to stay there.

BUT ANGLO PERSIAN RUGS have both won their way to the top and stayed there.

Determination, intelligent effort, progressiveness, true skill—all these have gone into the earning of the place that WHITTALL ANGLO PERSIAN RUGS HOLD.

You must examine these famous rugs to appreciate their merits.

They are made in all stock sizes, and special sizes if desired. RICH GATHERING IS READY NOW.

ROYAL WORCESTER

HOG MARKET TAKES ANOTHER BAD SLUMP

Tuesday and Wednesday Declines Bring Average to Lowest Level of Nine Months.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Another decline of ten to fifteen cents in the price of hogs this morning, combined with the slump of Tuesday, brought the average price of $7.60, which is the lowest level of the year. Top sales today fell short of the $8 mark by fully ten cents and packers were given an opportunity to stock up with fairly large droves at prices ranging thirty to forty cents lower than their last week supply. Today's run was fairly heavy at $9.00.

Heavy cattle receipts brought a slump in the market while sheep also went ten cents lower. Following are quotations:

Cattle—Receipts 27,000; market weak and generally 10c and 15c lower; beefs 5.60@5.70; Texas steers 6.30@6.50; western steers 5.30@5.50; stockers and feeders 4.90@5.20; cows and heifers 3.25@3.55; calves 6.00@6.15.

HAS DECIDING VOTE IN CUTTING MELON

W. Averill Harriman, just twenty-one years old, has set the old speculators of Wall street guessing as to how he will cast his deciding vote in the cutting up and the distribution of the juiciest kind of melon that Wall street has heard of in years. The Union Pacific railroad has accumulated the tremendous surplus of $59,000,000, to which has been added the sum of $81,000,000 cold cash, that came into the coffers of the railroad with the sale of the Southern Pacific. Now young Harriman holds the deciding vote in the distribution of this vast sum.

FARMERS ARE FORCED TO LET APPLES ROT ON THE GROUND

Shipments have been very light into the Janesville market during the week, nothing new being offered by the dealers. Excellent rutabagas, very large in size, are being sold at two cents per pound. Imported apples from the west continue to flood the market and the farmers are forced to allow their products to rot on the ground because of low prices and high labor. Eggs and butter have recovered from their slight scare and are holding fast to their high prices of thirty-six cents per pound for butter and thirty cents a dozen for eggs.

Ex-King Manuel's residence at Twickenham, Eng.

Ex-King Manuel of Portugal has announced that he and his bride will occupy a mansion at Twickenham, England, the coming winter. Princess Augusta Victoria left the hospital a few days ago, where she had been confined 26 several weeks.

King Manuel has an income from the Portuguese government which makes it possible for him to maintain a palatial residence. He has decided to furnish the house with all modern furniture. As a result of this decision all the furniture now in the house, including an old horse hair sofa which was once the property of Sir Walter Scott, will be sold at auction.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

From the Diary of a Grandmother; being a few extracts from the diary of a grandmother who visits her daughter and her four grandchildren for the first time.

GRANDMOTHER MAKES SOME DISCOVERIES ABOUT THE MANNERS OF THE CHILDREN OF TODAY.

"I HAVE read so much about the deterioration of children's manners that I ought not to be surprised to find that my own grandchildren are by no means well bred according to the standards of a generation or two generations ago; and yet I am surprised. Seeing these things in your own family is so much more real than reading about them."

"This morning Margaret called Ruth from above stairs. Ruth was reading a book. Without looking up from her book or making the slightest move to go to her mother, she hollered—yes, that is the only suitable word—'What?' Not 'What is it, mother?' nor even 'What, mother, mind you, but just the one word. I expected to hear Margaret reprove her sharply, but instead she merely called again, and Ruth put her finger in her place in the book and went slowly up the stairs."

"I simply cannot imagine treating my mother that way, nor indeed can I imagine Margaret responding to me in such an ill bred manner."

"Children in my own day—it doesn't seem possible that it is nearly sixty years ago, but it is—used to say 'Yes, ma'am' and 'No, sir' and in my children's day children said, 'Yes, mother' and 'No, father,' but my daughter's children speak to her or their father just as they do to each other. I suppose I shall get used to it, but it certainly seems strange at first."

"There was a time, too, when a child who interrupted or contradicted his parents was in danger of a good, thorough spanking. I just wish my own dear mother—I remember she was considered entirely too lenient by her mother—could sit at the dinner table one night and listen to her great grandchildren."

"And everyone; all the children contradict their mother with the utmost freedom, and somewhat less boldly, their father. Then they are brought up sharply by a petulant rebuke which sounds more like one child quarrelling with another than a parent correcting a child, but for the most part nothing is said."

"I know I am old fashioned, but I never quite realized how much so until I heard my grandchildren talking a brand new language which was new to me. In my day boys sometimes used slang expressions, girls never; but Janet and Ruth can hold their own with Richard. It is actually difficult for me to understand what they mean a good deal of the time. Even Margaret and Richard senior laughed at my blank face when Janet said to Richard, 'What do you mean, you lost your dog?' They tried to explain it to me but I cannot say I see much sense in it."

"I have been looking back over what I have written and I seem to have done nothing but find fault with my grandchildren. I am ashamed of myself for they have been very sweet to me. I am going to lock this book up in my drawer, for it would be terrible if Margaret should happen to see it. You see, Diary, I have kept all my criticisms for you. I think that is the best place for grandmother's criticisms."

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a nice girl, have nice clothes and a good education, but the boys do not seem to ask me to go to the place with them. I like them all nice and they all treat me nice, but that is as far as it goes. What kind of a girl do the boys like? I am conscious of myself. How can I overcome this?

Boys usually like a lively, jolly girl who can be a good friend and who doesn't expect a boy to make a big fuss over her. She must be attractive in appearance, so a boy will be proud of being seen with her. That doesn't mean an exceptionally pretty face, but it does mean neatness and an all-around good appearance. Also, remember that boys like to be entertained, which means that they like to hear about themselves and things in which they are interested, and they don't care particularly to hear a girl talk about herself and the things SHE is particularly interested in.

Forget about yourself. Be so busy thinking of others that there isn't room in your mind to think about yourself except where it is necessary.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a freshman of fourteen. Last winter a senior of eighteen was very attentive to me. He went away for the summer and promised to write to me. But I was disappointed. He was back for a week and again very attentive. He went away and has not written.

(1)—Is it improper for me to write, as I have moved frequently?

(2)—Is it wrong to go to the "movies" with a boy?

(3)—My father objects to my going out with the boys, but I pocket his knowledge?

(4)—Is "Ivan" necessarily a poetical name? ANXIOUS IRMA.

(1)—With a boy of that age, dear little girl, it is usually "out of sight, out of mind." He thinks you are just a little girl anyway, and is probably more interested in a girl of twenty, just now, than a girl of fourteen. So don't worry about him. There will be others more worth thinking about when you are a few years older.

(2)—I see no harm in going to an afternoon show, if you have your parents' permission. Tell your mother all about the show afterward; all about the boy, too. When you can do that, my dear, you may be sure that nothing is going to be wrong.

(3)—You are too young to be thinking of beaux. Do not be deceitful. Your father loves you.

(4)—No. Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—How can you bleach red hair?—Very beautiful otherwise and my hair ceases my beauty.

(2)—Is it wrong if you were out with a bunch of girls, to stray from them with a boy friend?

(3)—Is it wrong to play kissing games at a party?

(4)—Are big feet a deformity? TWO FRESHIES.

(1)—Peroxide will bleach hair of any color. But why bleach your hair? Some of the world's greatest beauties had red hair. There is nothing prettier if it is well kept, and it probably matches your complexion better than any other color would. (2)—It is not very good manners. (3)—All kinds of diseases are spread in these kissing games. I never advise boys or girls to join in them. (4)—Not unless they are abnormal. A large person should have large feet.

SOME THANKSGIVING GOODIES.

The time-honored dishes which are inseparable from Thanksgiving are so often discussed that a few different ways of serving the common vegetables may be of interest at this time.

Beets that are baked in the oven have a better flavor than when they are boiled. Care should be taken in turning them not to break the skin. Serve them sliced or chopped, seasoned with butter and pepper and salt.

Stuffed Onions.—Take as many onions as there are people to serve, parboil them until tender but not broken. Drain, remove the centers when cold, chop three of these centers and mix with a cup of cold cooked ham, finely chopped. Moisten with cream and the yolk of an egg, well beaten. Fill the centers with this mixture.

Place a piece of butter on the top of each, put into a deep dish and bake. Pour a little milk about them and bake a few minutes covered, then remove the cover, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and when brown, serve.

Braised Cabbage.—After cutting a good sized cabbage in half, soak it in cold water for an hour or more. Then boil quickly in plenty of boiling salted water. Drain and remove the stalk from the center, after cooking twenty minutes. Put into a sauce pan one sliced carrot, one sliced turnip, one stalk of celery, a few sprigs of parsley, one sliced onion and a bunch of any herbs. Lay the cabbage on top, pour over two cupsful of stock and boil until tender. Drain. Lay on a hot dish and serve at once.

Young Carrots.—Scrape the carrots and put them into a sauce pan with a small onion, a bay leaf, a little salt and pepper. Cover with stock and stew until tender. Place on a dish around a mound of mashed potatoes.

Fried Celery.—Wash nice pieces of celery and simmer in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and cut in halves, lengthwise; brush over with beaten egg, seasoned with salt and pepper. Fry in deep fat and when a light brown remove and drain. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve.

When the large, fresh mushrooms may be obtained, there is nothing more delicious to serve with a stuffing or forcemeat made of chopped ham, and seasonings, filling the caps, and then bake in a hot oven fifteen minutes.

Nellie Maxwell.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

If you want the waists stiff, dry them before starching; if not very stiff, they can be starched first.

Black goods and black stockings should be rinsed in clear water which has been added a liberal portion of vinegar.

Hard soap lasts much longer if dried for several weeks before using it, and is also less hurtful to the skin.

To brighten oilcloths, dissolve half an ounce of beeswax in a saucer of turpentine; rub on, then dry with a darning.

Turkish Soup.—Five cups of brown soup stock, one-quarter cup of rice, one and one-half of stewed and strained tomatoes, bit of butter, two slices of onion, ten pepper-acorns, one-quarter teaspoonful of butter, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour. Cook rice in brown stock until soft. Cook onion, onion, peppercorns, and celery salt with tomatoes for thirty minutes. Combine mixtures, rub through a sieve, and bind with butter and flour cooked together. Season with salt and pepper if needed.

Hot Potato Salad.—Wash six medium sized potatoes, and cook in boiling salted water until soft. Cool, remove the skins, and cut in very thin slices. Cover the bottom of a baking-dish with potatoes, seasoned with salt and pepper, sprinkle with finely chopped parsley. Mix two tablespoonfuls each of farragon and elder vinegar and four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, and add one slice of lemon cut one-third inch thick. Bring to boiling point, pour over the potatoes, cover, and let stand in the oven until thoroughly warmed.

Frozen Plum Pudding.—Two cups of milk, one-quarter cup of sugar, six eggs, one-quarter cup of salt, one-quarter cup of sherry, two and one-half cups of cream, three-quarter cup of candied fruit, one-half cup of almonds, blanched and chopped, one-half cup of Sultan's raisins, one-half cup of pounded macaroons.

Make a custard of milk, one-half cup sugar, egg yolks, and salt. Cayenne, the remaining egg whites, and add. Strain, cool, add the remaining ingredients, freeze and mould.

Quick Paste.—One and one-half cups of flour, three-quarter teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter cup of water.

Mix the salt with the flour, cut in shortening with a knife. Moisten to dough with cold water. Toss on flour, beat, pat, roll, put, and roll up like a jelly roll. Use one-third cup of shortening if a richer paste is desired.

Custard Pie.—Two eggs, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, one-eighth teaspoonful of salt, one and one-half cups of milk, few gratings of nutmeg.

Beat the eggs slightly, add the sugar, salt, and the milk. Line the pie plate with paste, and pour in a fluted rim. Strain in the mixture and sprinkle with a few gratings of nutmeg. Bake in a quick oven at first to set the rim, decrease the heat afterwards, as egg and milk in combination need to be cooked at low temperature.

Every Day Talks for Every Day People

By FRANCES JOYCE KENNEDY.

Father and mother readers, do you always know where your children are? Is there an hour in the twenty-four when you would be forced to say, if asked, "No, I cannot say. I do not know where they are?"

When they come to you on Sunday especially, asking permission to go out, do you question them as to where they are going, who they will be with, and when you may expect them back? Do you say, "Yes, you can go. I'm sick and tired, and you are on and shut up?" Rough talk, this! Yes, but true.

Sunday at a little after three on the railroad track that lies to the west of our city, a freight train came pulling in at a fairly good speed. In one of the open sand cars were six little boys ranging in age from nine to say thirteen, judging them by their size and general appearance. They were all enjoying life as they put it mildly; they were having a glorious time; they waved their caps gleefully at two other little chaps of about the same age and playfully addressing one of them as "Skinny."

"Skinny" and his friend were standing on the right-of-way, the picture of envy and dejection. The latter was a long one. They looked up the track, then down, "come on we can," said "Skinny." Without more ado "Skinny" rushed at the going train and tried to "catch on" the ladders that the brakemen use. He did not wait for the last car, not he. He fairly hurled his little, thin body against the car—and missed the ladder.

It happened so quickly that you have really not had time to disavow the boy from trying the foolhardy feat.

You put your hands over your face, and for a few seconds that seem like an eternity, so fraught with horror are they, you wait for the agonizing cry that tells you that "Skinny" has paid the price for his daring.

But no such cry is forthcoming. Dazed, you look at the boy. You, not he, are the one who is upset. He is calmly brushing himself off, as if it was a very common thing to be very nearly ground to bits under the wheels of an incoming train.

You ask him if he has a mother? "Sure!" is the answer of the way he "flips" trains? "He don't know." You endeavor to talk to him. He assures you that he can "flip" trains as well as the other boys, and the little chap never once seems to think that the habit is dangerous.

Next, who is to blame for this state of affairs? Is any one? The parents who allow their growing boys to roam about on Saturday and Sunday with too much time at their disposal? Who do you think is to blame?

Or do you belong to that class, that shrug their shoulders in a "what-will-you-do" way and declare that if it don't kill 'em the laddie it will make a man of him?

Don't you think that a mother should at all times be able to say just where her children are and who they are with?

three tablespoonfuls; sugar, two tablespoonfuls; salt, one teaspoonful; compressed yeast cake, one; bread flour.

Directions.—Scald the milk in the sauce pan and add the butter, sugar and salt to the milk when lukewarm. Add the yeast cake dissolved in one-fourth cup of lukewarm water and gradually add about three cups of flour. Beat thoroughly, cover and let rise until light and full of bubbles. Cut down and add flour to make a stiff dough; knead and let rise again until it doubles its bulk; knead lightly and pinch off three small rolls about the size of marbles; dip in melted butter and place them in the space for one muffin; a greased muffin pan. Repeat until the pans are full. Sprinkle lightly with granulated sugar. Cover, let rise and bake from fifteen to thirty minutes in a hot oven. These are very nice for afternoon lunches, inexpensive and very easy to make.

English Muffins. Material—Milk, one pint; butter, three tablespoonfuls; yeast, one cake, salt, one teaspoonful.

Directions.—Scald the milk and add the butter; when lukewarm add the compressed yeast dissolved in one-fourth cup of warm water and salt. Put in sufficient flour to make a drop batter, beating very well, and let rise for two hours. Heat and grease the dripping pan, also muffin rings, if you use them, placing the latter in the former and half filling with the batter. Bake in a moderate oven, thirty minutes until nicely brown. If you use muffin pans heat and grease them also. These are extremely tasty.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the stomach like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best to let calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box, The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Impossible to Tell All. "Will you solemnly swear that the testimony you shall give shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?" "No; I won't swear to anything of the kind," answered the man who had been a witness in several big cases. "The lawyers won't let me tell half the truth." Legal Journal.

Consumption Takes 350 People Daily

In the United States and the deadly germs claim more victims in cities than in rural districts, due no doubt to the increased number of indoor workers in confining quarters and their lack of sunshine.

Tubercular germs always attack when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, overstrain, confining duties or any thing which has reduced the resistive forces of the body. But nature always provides a corrector and the best physicians emphasize that during changing climate our blood should be kept rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals; the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood—it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and upholds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known; it builds energy and strength and is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug—every druggist has it.

The Many Uses of the Electric Vacuum Cleaner

If you have thought of the Electric Vacuum Cleaner only as an efficiency means of cleaning floor coverings, you have not nearly appreciated its usefulness. You can also:

- Use it for cleaning
- Curtains and draperies on their hangings;
- Walls and ceilings;
- Polished and upholstered furniture;
- Radiators and hot-air registers;
- Books without removal from the case;
- Hardwood and tile floors;
- Pictures and mouldings;
- Door and window casings;
- Mattresses and tufted upholstery;
- Clothing, furs and millinery.

- Use it for
- Airing bedding without removal from beds;
- Ventilating closets and trunks;
- Cleaning billiard tables;
- Cleaning the action of your piano or pianola;
- Drying your hair after a shampoo;
- Massaging in cases of neuralgia or congestion;
- Cleaning automobiles or carriages;
- Cleaning your pet dog or cat;
- Blowing dust from corners and other inaccessible places;
- Only lack of space prevents listing many other uses for the Electric Vacuum Cleaner. Are you depriving yourself of its advantages?

NEED OF ROCK PILE AGAIN EMPHASIZED

County Board Expected to Take Definite Action at Annual Meeting Next Week.

Rock county's urgent need of a rock pile for employing prisoners committed to the county jail is being given serious consideration by members of the county board, and the institution of some form of work during the winter months will be brought up at the next meeting on the eleventh.

Throughout the summer since the commitment law was passed by the legislature, Sheriff Whipple has had no trouble in placing the men, but with winter approaching and a scarcity of work, it will become a difficult problem to find places for the sentenced men. Regarding the plan of having the county erect a small walled space at the jail where prisoners could break rock when no work can be found for them, Sheriff Whipple stated: "If we let the commitment law drop for a minute during the winter time, the county will be right back in the old place of having the jail a refuge for the loafers who refuse to work. Before the law was passed we had many farmers who needed men, come out to keep the prisoners' fires if they would help in the harvesting, but it was seldom that they would consent but would live off the county until their time was up and then would come back again for another visit."

"We have been very successful in keeping the jail clean and it has brought about a decided change in the attitude of the undesirables who before shunned honest work but now have sought honest employment and have a respect for the law."

"What we want is something to show the men who have been in the habit of making the county jail a home in the winter time that they will not be able to get away from it and find employment. We want to have them break rocks or even carry them from one place to another, just so it keeps them busy."

It has been suggested that road work would solve the problem, but there are a few months when this is impossible as there is no work done on the highways. If a prisoner is a skilled workman it would not be doing justice to the taxpayer to let him to hire him out to a road gang at dollar wages when he is capable of earning double that at factory employment.

Chairman Gray of the county board has given some attention to the movement, and action is certain at the coming meeting.

TALKS AT MEETING AWAKE ENTHUSIASM IN SOCIAL SERVICE

Inspiring Talks Given at Meeting of Brotherhood of Cargill Methodist Church.

Enthusiasm for social service, the broadening and intensification of its activities, was awakened at the first program meeting of the Brotherhood of the Cargill Methodist church this season which was held in the church parlors last evening. About one hundred members and their friends were present and were served a hearty dinner by the ladies of Circle No. 8, after which President H. M. Blackie, the presiding official, called the meeting to order.

Rev. J. F. Robinson of Walla Walla, Washington, who has been visiting relatives in the city, and was an invited guest of the Brotherhood, was the first to be called upon and made a brief address on Brotherhood work.

"Brotherhood," he said, "means united effort, a union of thought and of purpose. The purpose is that we ourselves may become better men and induce others to lead better lives."

Alva Austin spoke on the subject of "Spiritual Work." Members of the Brotherhood, he said, could do effective work in this sphere by helping to increase the religious services, supporting evangelistic effort and missions, by Bible study and increase of knowledge, by men's meetings in the shops and factories, and leading men to an intelligent study of the Word of God.

Dr. F. T. Richards had given the topic of "Good Citizenship," but judged he had found an acceptable "eliminator" in Sheriff C. S. Whipple, who had been upon the stand. The sheriff touched upon the decrease of police brutality and the great changes for the better that have come about in the treatment of prisoners, but most of his discourse was given up to an account of the workings of the Huber law for the employment of prisoners. His hearers evidenced great interest and plied him with numerous questions. The experiences which he related were full of human interest and showed that the enforcement of the law not only served to give invaluable aid to prisoners' dependents, but had an excellent moral effect on the prisoners themselves. The successful operation of the law, he said, depended entirely upon the interest that was taken in it by the county sheriffs.

"Fellowship" was the subject assigned to G. A. Jacobs, who laid emphasis upon the necessity of churchmen living up to their responsibilities, taking an active interest in church work and making all who attend its services feel at home and welcome.

F. E. Beard made some pertinent remarks on "Membership" and the duties of the membership committee, among the duties of which was to report cases of sickness and distress among members of the Brotherhood so that steps could be taken for their relief and assistance.

H. F. Bliss referred to the fact that the women of Methodism as well as those of other churches were organized and hard at work but the men are not. Until they did likewise the church would never accomplish what it should. He expressed the belief that the church should be open seven days in the week and that it would have to direct its attention to the young and holding the boys if it was to increase or even maintain its strength. Brief remarks on the boy problem were also made by Judge H. T. D. Williams and F. H. Harriot.

A novel feature of the program was the educated mule "Maud," personated by Charles Noyes and Valentine Mott. The mule answered questions in a manner which caused great amusement, the answers being phrased "slams" at different members of the Brotherhood.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 5.—Throughout North Carolina today, under the direction of the official of the county, work was commenced to improve the roads of the state, following out the dictates of the proclamation of Governor Craig, setting aside today and tomorrow as North Carolina's good roads' days. The North Carolina executive set the example by donning overalls, and personally helping in the work on the roads near his home. Reports from over the state indicate that fully 15,000 men and boys volunteering their services in the work of improving the highways.

STOP, MOTHER! IT'S CRUEL TO FORCE OIL OR CALOMEL INTO SICK CHILD'S STOMACH.
"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels. Children love it.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "physic" that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels are causing give California Syrup of Figs. Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach; and a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow. It should be the first remedy given as it always does good, never any harm.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children, and grown-ups, plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Elder Stephens expects to be at the A. C. church 12 in the interest of state mission work.

THOUSANDS WORK UPON NORTH CAROLINA ROADS
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 5.—Throughout North Carolina today, under the direction of the official of the county, work was commenced to improve the roads of the state, following out the dictates of the proclamation of Governor Craig, setting aside today and tomorrow as North Carolina's good roads' days. The North Carolina executive set the example by donning overalls, and personally helping in the work on the roads near his home. Reports from over the state indicate that fully 15,000 men and boys volunteering their services in the work of improving the highways.

STOP, MOTHER! IT'S CRUEL TO FORCE OIL OR CALOMEL INTO SICK CHILD'S STOMACH.
"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels. Children love it.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "physic" that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels are causing give California Syrup of Figs. Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach; and a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow. It should be the first remedy given as it always does good, never any harm.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children, and grown-ups, plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

FATHER M'GINNITY READS MARRIAGE SERVICE FOR HIS BROTHER IN CHICAGO

ORFORDVILLE

Orfordville, Nov. 5.—Rev. J. J. McGinnity went to Chicago Tuesday to perform the marriage ceremony of his brother, Thomas McGinnity, of Chicago. The service took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. Mary's of the Lake Catholic church.

Rev. N. Weyer of Mineral Point is a guest of friends here for a few days.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society met with Mrs. Julia Sholes this afternoon.

Miss Anna Driver was a Janesville shopper today.

Clarence Anderson of Janesville spent yesterday here.

B. B. Keith came home from Watertown last night and as it was his birthday, Mrs. George Keith had a supper in his honor.

Miss Maude Rose spent yesterday with her brother, Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. May are returning over the arrival of a son, born Nov. 3.

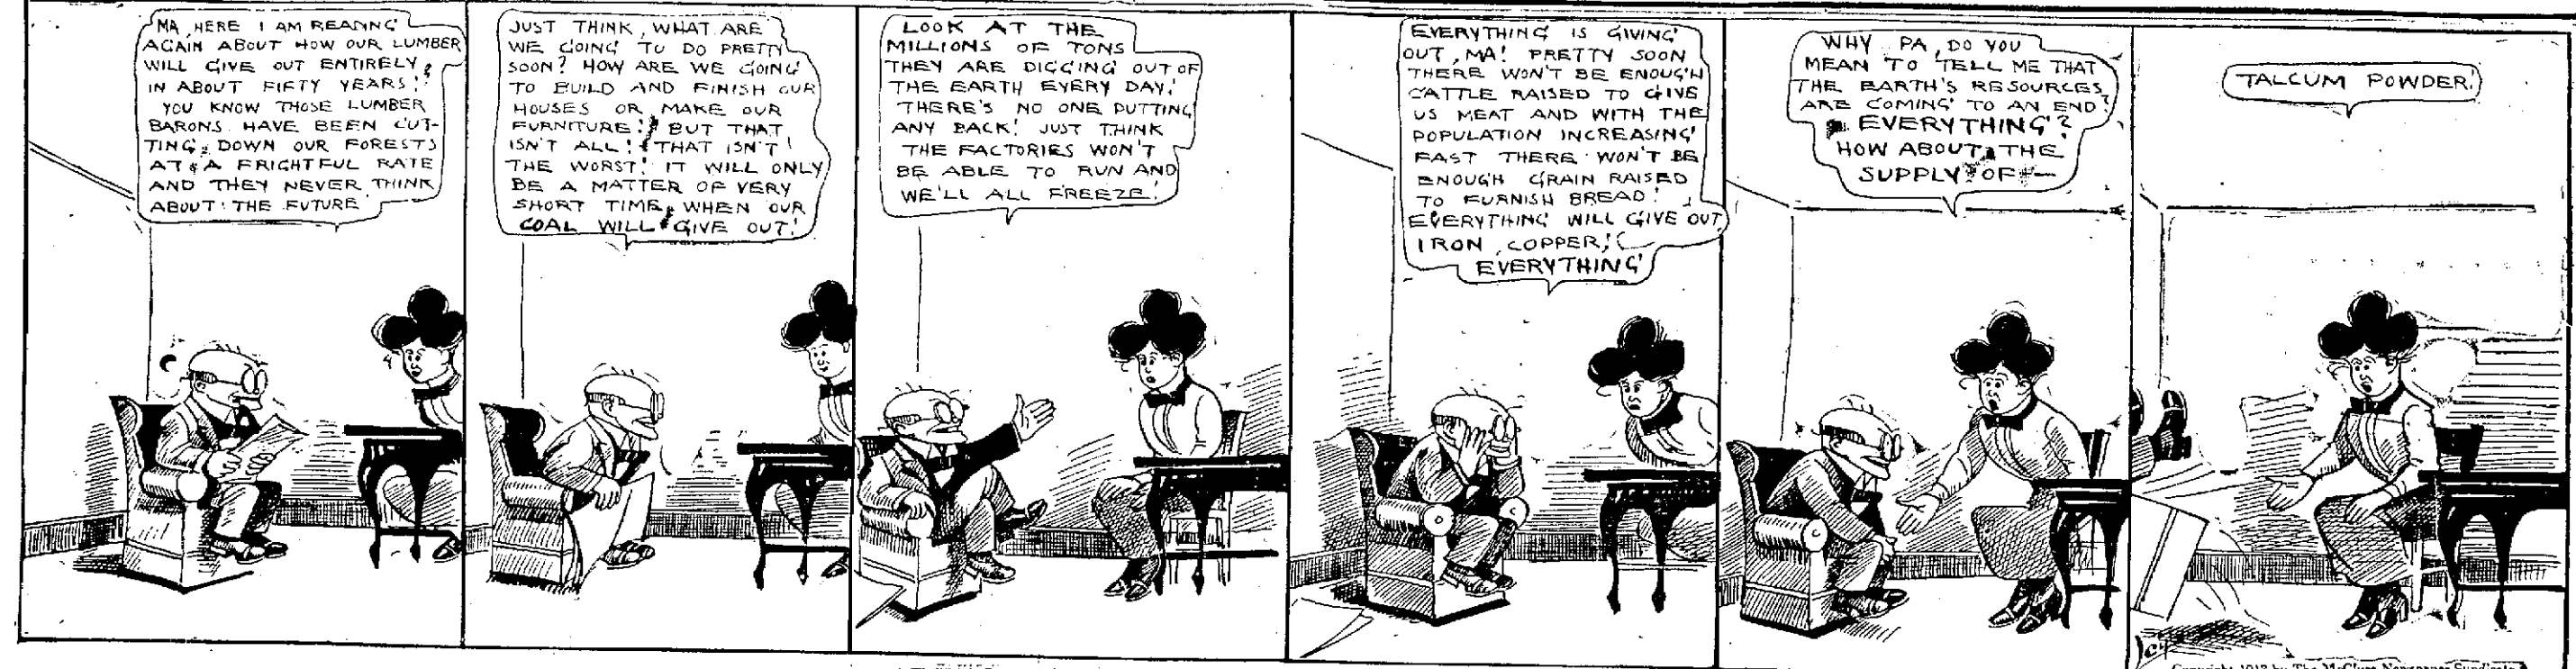

The mission being conducted by Father Fitzgerald at the Catholic church is largely attended. The mission will close Thursday evening with the 7:30 services.

CAINVILLE CENTER

IN JANESVILLE

The Evidence Is Supplied by Local Testimony.

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Janesville, what can it be?

C. W. Allen, retired farmer, 468 N. Chatham St., Janesville, Wis., says: "I suffered from rheumatic pains in my back when I bent over. My muscles and joints were twisted out of shape. My feet were swollen and the flesh under my eyes was all puffed up. I could not sleep. My kidneys acted too freely and the kidney secretions were scanty. The passages were accompanied by a burning pain. I had to be awful careful or I would catch cold. I felt miserable. I spent hundreds of dollars for doctors' treatments, but I kept growing worse. One day the doctor told me I would be dead in three months. Then I got Doan's Kidney Pills from the People's Drug Co. and they completely and permanently cured me. My kidneys have been in good shape since. The swellings have all left me and the rheumatism is all gone. I am hale and hearty even if I am seventy-seven years old. Six years ago Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and after three doctors said I would die, I did all the heavy work on my farm without a bit of trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

HOLTON of THE NAVY

A Story of the Freedom of Cuba

CHAPTER XIII.A Night Rendezvous.

Before Holton could make answer, a young Cuban galloped by on horseback. So lithe was he, so clean-limbed, his uniform so spick and span, his face so handsome, that Holton turned to glance after him. He, too, was turning to gaze at Holton, and now brought his horse to a sharp halt.

Nothing this, the navy man walked toward the fellow, feeling that he had seen him somewhere before but puzzled to know where.

The young soldier, with head turned over shoulder, nodded to Holton, and then, with a sweep of the hand, beckoned him toward a group of small palms, whither he urged his horse at a slow walk. The naval officer followed and came to a standstill beside the beautiful animal.

The boy—he was little more—bent down and looked at Holton a moment. Then he smiled and held out his hand.

"You have been pointed out to me as Lieutenant Holton," he said. "Are you he?"

Holton looked at the other steadily without answering. A thrill passed over him.

"I could almost say," he replied finally, "that you are Miss La Tossa in disguise."

"You would be pretty nearly right," was the laughing response; "I am her brother."

"Oh!" Holton reached up and seized the lad's hand. "I am very happy to see you. Where is your sister?"

"At home. I stole in to visit her last night. She wished me to find you and to ask you to accompany me to a place beyond Sevilla at once. She will await us on the road and will have something of importance to say to you. I do not know what it is."

"But—" Holton hesitated. "I have just come in from Santiago at some peril. I have work to do here."

The boy smiled at him.

"There will be no peril in returning with me. We Cubans," he grimaced, "have a secret route into the city which has always been kept open. It is open now. You must come with me; my sister has news of great importance you must hear."

Holton needed no great incentive to accompany the other. He still wore his Spaniard's uniform, with the addition of an army hat bearing the insignia of the Fifth Corps, and he felt himself sartorially well qualified once more to penetrate the ranks of the enemy, if that were necessary.

With the young Cuban for a guide, he felt that danger was reduced to a minimum.

"I have a pony you may ride," continued the boy, mistaking Holton's silence for hesitation.

"Oh, I'll go, even if I walk," returned Holton, "but I certainly shall appreciate the horse."

Sunset was the hour and the Cuban camp the rendezvous agreed upon by the two, and after shaking hands with the young man, Holton returned to his own lines and made his way to Shafter's headquarters. The commander-in-chief was in wretched physical condition, and the able and energetic Lieutenant Miley was attending to many of the executive details. To this officer Holton made his way.

"Did you receive any word from this President?" he asked.

The naval officer some days previously had requested General Shafter to solicit a message from the President disclaiming any idea of holding and annexing Cuba after the close of hostilities. It was well understood by Shafter, or rather by his aide, why Holton proffered the request.

Now, in reply to his question, the aide dived into his tent and emerged bearing a cable dispatch sent from Washington via Key West and Guantanamo. It was addressed to General Shafter and read as follows:

"The President states herewith that hostilities against the Kingdom of Spain were instituted with the sole purpose of liberating Cuba from Spanish rule. It is our wish that, thus free, she shall take her proud place among the republics of America."

"Good!" exclaimed Holton, after reading the message. "Nothing ambiguous about that, is there?"

"Not a thing," laughed Miley. "I suppose you want this."

"It would be invaluable," responded Holton eagerly. "May I take it?"

For reply, the tall, weather-beaten army officer handed Holton the cablegram.

At sunset he proceeded to the spot suggested by young La Tossa, and found him already mounted and holding another pony by the bridle.

"You are on time," he said. "This is your horse, and I suggest we start at once."

For an hour they rode in silence, and finally paused in a cove of woods outside the little settlement called Sevilla. Here the young Cuban dismounted, and Holton did likewise, looking inquiringly at the boy. The latter smiled half mockingly, and Holton, advancing to him, placed his hand upon his arm, while he regarded the youth with curious eyes.

"You make me think very much of your sister," he said.

"Do I?" The fellow laughed. "You care for my sister, then?"

Holton flashed back a quick glance at the boy.

"Care for her! Look here, youngster, I care for her so much that if she doesn't look out I'm going to be your brother some day."

A laugh broke from La Tossa.

"I have heard her say pretty much the same thing," he chuckled.

Holton took both his shoulders in a mighty grip.

"You have!" he cried. "Quick now, boy, are you joking?"

The other wriggled away and placed his hand carefully upon his shoulder.

"You needn't crush my bones in," he grumbled. "Of course it's true."

Holton leaped upon the pony.

"Come on. Let's go to her." His tone was as ardent as a cavalier's.

"Not now," was the laughing reply. "We must stay here until it is dark."

Young La Tossa pointed toward a crumbling building.

"Do you notice the peculiar shape of that roof?" he asked. "Well, I have an idea you will be in this vicinity later. If you are, remember the shape of that roof. Inside that very building—" He paused. "But my sister will tell you," he added.

The darkness grew rapidly denser, until at last it was sufficiently black to suit the wishes of the young Cuban. Mounting their ponies, the two turned in the direction of Santiago, and had just entered a trail leading through low bushes, covering an immense area, when a man, gun in hand, stepped out in front of them.

Holton's revolver leaped from its holster, but his companion put out a restraining hand.

"Well, Pierre?" he asked sharply. "Miss La Tossa," responded the man, "is here."

A thrill shot through Holton, and he was on the ground in an instant. The brother followed suit, and the next instant the form of the girl confronted him.

"Ramon!"

"Ranee!"

As they embraced it seemed to Holton as though he would give up ten numbers of his rank as senior lieutenant if he could be in the youth's shoes. Moodily he saw the girl regarding him with luminous, smiling eyes.

She was attired in a hunting-skirt of khaki, leather leggings, a khaki jacket, and a brown felt hat, and she was in no wise less charming than in the ball dress at the New Willard, or her traveling suit on the train bound for Tampa. She carried a carbine.

"How do you do, Miss La Tossa?" There was a quiver in Holton's voice, which she must have caught, for she smiled the more openly because she knew the darkness would hide it from the officer.

"I am so happy to know you escaped," she began.

"Yes, thanks to you," was Holton's warm reply.

She walked close to him, then turned to her brother and to the Cuban.

"Will you please leave us for a few minutes?" she commanded. "I must speak with Mr. Holton alone."

Holton said nothing, but waited while the two, thus adjured, moved into the bushes out of earshot.

"Mr. Holton," she said then, with a little catch in her voice, "I don't know why I am doing this, but it is because I believe in you and in your country."

"You are justified, I am sure, in believing in both me and my country," replied Holton.

"I am sure of it. Tonight, Mr. Holton, at Sevilla, in the building which my brother pointed out to you—he did point it out, as I asked him to, did he not?"

"Yes," nodded Holton, "he pointed it out."

"In that building," she continued, "tonight, there is to be a meeting of officers high in the Cuban army, at which an immediate outbreak against the soldiers of the United States will be discussed."

Holton started.

"Garcia—will he be there?" he asked.

"Garcia will not be there, nor Rabi, nor Castillo."

Holton laughed.

"Then," he declared, "the meeting will not amount to much."

"Do not be fooled," was the warm rejoinder. "It will amount to a great deal. You know—or do you?—the condition of your army. Sickness is beginning."

"Yes, but a majority are well, and I myself know the straits of the Spanish army, for I have been in Santiago. I myself have informed General Shafter that Toral can muster at most not more than twelve thousand men, if that."

"Yes, yes," she responded, tapping her foot impatiently. "I do not come here to argue, Mr. Holton. I tell you Holton thought a moment. Then he looked up.

"I will go to the meeting," he announced.

"You! It is impossible. An American officer! No, it cannot be!"

"Then, what?" Holton's voice was impatient.

He took from his pocket the cable dispatch from Washington.

"I have here," he resumed, "a message from President McKinley to General Shafter, sent him at my request. If read at the meeting it should not be without effect."

He quoted to her the contents. She seized the paper and kissed it. Then she stamped her foot as a sudden thought possessed her mind.

"I have it!" she cried. "I will go to the meeting myself. And I shall take this dispatch with me."
